

FULLER EARLE
CALLAWAY DIES
EARLY SUNDAY

Nationally Known Georgia Business Man Succumbs to Heart Attack at LaGrange Home.

FUNERAL SERVICES TO BE HELD TUESDAY

Fuller Callaway Began Life as Poor Boy and Died Head of 23 Big Enterprises.

Fuller Earle Callaway, one of the south's greatest business men and the only member of the Georgia Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, died suddenly at his home in LaGrange, of heart trouble, Mr. Callaway was 57 years old.

The end came quietly just before the family breakfast. Mr. Callaway, seemingly, was in the best of health prior to his death. Saturday, he had pursued his business interests with his customary diligence and had gone automobile riding Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Callaway leaves his wife and two sons, Cason J. Callaway and Fuller E. Callaway, Jr.

Building his now vast interests from a small beginning with a policy of scrupulous honesty and love for his fellowman, Mr. Callaway rapidly became one of the outstanding figures in American business, as well as one of the most loved, for his God-fearing principles.

At his death, Mr. Callaway was head of 23 great enterprises, and, indicative of a lifelong policy, they are located within a 100-mile radius of LaGrange, the town where he was born, and the town from which the now vast business had their beginning in a small 5-and-10-cent store.

The Callaway enterprises include the United Cotton mills, the United Spinning mills, the Elm City Cotton mills, the Milstead Cotton manufacturing company, the Manchester Cotton mills, the Hillside Cotton mills, the Valley Waste mills, the Security Warehouse agency, the LaGrange Development company, the Electric Ginners, the Callaway Development company, the Manchester Development company, Callaway's Department stores, interests in three banks, and other businesses.

Mr. Callaway, in his commercial developments, has woven the history of the Georgia town, LaGrange. Almost 9,000 people are employed by the Callaway industries, and in addition to his businesses, he built churches, houses for his workers, hotels, hospitals, schools, stores, as well as to run a newspaper.

Funeral services for Mr. Callaway will be conducted at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the First Baptist church, at LaGrange.

Born in 1870, Mr. Callaway was born in 1870, the fourth among 17 children of a Baptist preacher, and as a consequence had to, largely, take care of himself.

Long before he was ten years of age, he was "buying and trading" everything he could, and even in his youth the commercial genius which was born in him manifest itself so that he emerged from every deal with just a little profit for himself.

At the age of 18, he decided that he had sufficient business acumen to "set up" for himself, and so he borrowed $500, his total capital. He opened a 5-and-10-cent store, for the reason, as he explained later in life: "That was the only kind of store I could think of that could make good on five hundred dollars. I reckoned I could pay cash and sell for cash, and keep quite some goods on five hundred dollars in five and tens."

Profit First Year.
Mr. Callaway christened his initial enterprise, "Callaway's Mammoth Five and Ten Cent Store," and he put into it all of the native commercial genius which was his, and the will to give every man a square deal. "Callaway's Mammoth Five and Ten Cent Store" showed a profit of $1,600 at the end of its first year's business, and with this, he safely established, he sought other fields to enter. And so he started Callaway's Department store.

After two years in business, Mr. Callaway, at the age of 20, married. His wife was then 18. They began

And Home Today

By Light of Tropic Moon, 'Spirit of St. Louis' Leaves Havana for the United States.

HOPES TO COMPLETE
HOP BY 4 O'CLOCK

Flight Is Final Leg on Epochal Good-Will Tour Which Started in December at Washington.

Havana, February 12.—(AP)—(Mon. day).—Eager to see the Lone Eagle start on his flight of some 1,200 miles to his home port of St. Louis, spectators began arriving at Columbia field at 1:05 o'clock this morning. Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was expected to start about 2 a. m.

The tropical moon rose shortly after 1 o'clock, and arrangements were being made for the flight, although the Spirit of St. Louis was still in the hangar. At 1:20 a. m., neither Lindbergh or American Ambassador Noble Brandon Judah, host of the flier, were at the field.

EXPECTS TO FLY ACROSS FLORIDA STRAITS.

Havana, February 12.—(AP)—A start before sunrise tomorrow, a short hop across the Florida straits, a long flight over a half dozen states; then Lambert field, home port of the travel-stained "Spirit of St. Louis," is the program of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh for terminating an epoch-making flight initiated last December in a non-stop flight from Washington, D. C., to Mexico City.

Miniature flags of thirteen countries have been added to those painted on the fuselage of the Spirit of St. Louis before the departure from Washington, recording visits to various nations of Europe. These latest additions represent Mexico, Guatemala, British Honduras, Nicaragua, Honduras, Salvador, Costa Rica, Panama, Colombia, Venezuela, Santo Domingo, Haiti and Cuba. Two United States possessions, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands, were stops on Lindbergh's Pan-American tour.

Takes President on Flight.

The flying ambassador retired early last night after a day devoted mostly to flights over Havana and to a final check-up on the condition of his monoplane. Distinguished Cubans, beginning with President Gerardo Machado, delegates to the Pan-American conference.

Find Loophole
In Blue LawsStrict Enforcement on First
Sunday of Ancient Measures Found Impossible.

Columbia, S. C., February 12.—(AP)—The inauguration of enforcement of old Sunday observance ordinances which was scheduled for today throughout the state, found merchants of Columbia and other cities apparently regulating their actions according to their individual interpretations of the laws.

Although the majority of stores, filling stations and other places of business which had formerly operated on Sunday were closed today, the doubtful legal interpretation of the term "emergency," found in the ordinances, offered a loophole upon which many proprietors kept their places of business open as usual. The laws permit the sale of anything in cases of necessity.

While no arrests were reported throughout the state, enforcement having been assigned to local authorities, the sheriff of Greenville county announced that he would bring charges against proprietors of an ice cream parlor and a drug store tomorrow for serving drinks.

Philadelphia, Pa., February 12.—(AP)—More than a score of men were arrested today when they defied police and attempted to hold a "mass meeting for the unemployed," notwithstanding that permission to hold the meeting had been refused several days ago.

George D. Evans, secretary of the Philadelphia Council of the Unemployed, was among those falling into the hands of police, all of whom were booked on charges of disorderly conduct. The sheriff of Greenville county announced that he would bring charges against proprietors of an ice cream parlor and a drug store tomorrow for serving drinks.

30 MORE BODIES
ARE TAKEN FROM FIRE-SWEPT MINE

Death Toll of Ontario Disaster Reported 39; Rescuers Braved Gas Fumes.

Timmins, Ont., February 12.—(AP)—Reports were received from the Hollinger gold mine tonight that the bodies of 30 more of the miners trapped underground when fire broke out Friday morning had been recovered, making the death toll of the disaster 39, with all accounted for.

Twelve were brought out alive yesterday. Mine officials determined by a check that 51 men were unable to leave the workings before smoke and gas cut off escape.

Fumes Menace Rescuers.

Working with apparatus brought on special trains from Pittsburgh, Pa., and Toronto, rescue workers earlier today succeeded in recovering five bodies. Operations were handicapped by acrid fumes from the shafts.

Experienced miners, including some of those rescued yesterday, expressed the opinion that the men still underground may already have been suffocated. One of those rescued, N. Petrich, told from his hospital cot how he tried to warn some of his fellow workers, when he smelled the smoke, and how a small party was driven from one shaft to another by deadly gases as they sought to reach exit.

Finally, he said, seven of them improvised gas masks by soaking their shirts in water, broke a compressed air line and turned the pipe so it partly blew the smoke and gas from them while they awaited the rescuing party.

Men in Three Shafts.

It was not known where in the extensive underground workings the men still missing this afternoon might be.

There are three shafts, respectively, 3,150 feet, 2,400 feet and 1,850 feet deep with "drifts" in various directions several hundred yards in length and numerous other passages, including inclined planes connecting the different levels. Men were working in all parts of the mine when the fire started.

One of the eight men who reached the surface exhausted and so covered with dust that he hardly appeared like a man, related his harrowing experience.

"Excellent progress was being made in the exploration work," he said, "and we found both original fires had burned themselves out. There must have been a third fire farther down, which caused the explosion. We had left the main party to recharge our batteries and to eat a lunch and we were probably about 500 yards behind them."

FRET'S PARLEY

Salvadoran Maintains Opposition to Intervention of One State in Another's Internal Affairs.

DELEGATES FEAR
SECOND DEADLOCK

U. S. Delegates Insist That Only "Unlawful Intervention" Should Be Prohibited in Report.

Havana, February 12.—(AP)—The possibility of another deadlock in the deliberations of the Pan-American congress was seen today in the announcement by Dr. Gustavo Guerrero, chief of the Salvadoran delegation, that he would continue to maintain that intervention of one state in the internal affairs of another should be prohibited internationally without exception.

An identical attitude on the part of Dr. Honorio Pueyrredon, of Argentina, had prevented a subcommittee studying the fundamental rights and duties of countries from coming to any decision. Within the past few days, however, it had been hoped that new instructions sent to Dr. Pueyrredon from Buenos Aires had reopened the discussions for a possible solution.

Delegates Fear Trouble.

Delegates who were informed of Dr. Guerrero's pronouncement regarded the resulting situation with misgiving. Dr. Guerrero declined to reveal any of the proceedings of the subcommittee of the committee on public international law which for more than a week has had under consideration the report presented by Dr. Victor Maurtua of Peru, which had been attacked on the ground that it subordinated national independence to the rights of other nations.

"Although by common agreement of the subcommittee I can say nothing as to what has been going on there," Dr. Guerrero said, "my attitude on the subject of intervention is well known. I do not recognize the right of international affairs of another under any circumstances."

Favors Conference Report.

"This attitude, to which I have already held, I still hold and will continue to hold," he said, "I have already publicly announced in committee that I am favorable to the approval of the recommendations of the Rio de Janeiro institute on intervention on the subject, and I have seen no reason to change my attitude."

The jurist's report recommended last April approval of the final report of the committee on intervention, which "no state may intervene in the internal affairs of another."

The American delegation has opposed any formula as sweeping as the one held by the committee, which would have the duty of a conference is to codify existing international law and not to introduce new precepts.

Resident charges of the committee's proposal, the ship had sprung a leak. Towing the helpless ship through the heavy seas became so difficult that it tended through the Varand 65 miles south of the Dutch tug went to the assistance.

Whereabouts of Late Russian Czar's 'Daughter' Is Unknown to Friends.

New York, February 12.—(AP)—The furor created by the arrival of the young woman who claims to be a daughter of the late czar of Russia had subsided today while efforts to discover her whereabouts were unavailing. Only the vague statement that she was "in New York" could be obtained.

Supporters of the claim of Mme. Anastasia Tchaikovsky that she is the Grand Duchess Anastasia and the only member of the Russian royal family to escape execution at Ekaterinburg, Siberia, in 1918, and opponents of her claim to royalty, meanwhile, maintained their respective positions but remained silent.

At the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Auguste Richard, at Lawrence, on Long Island, where the woman went Thursday after her arrival on the Berengaria, it was said that she had gone to New York.

Mrs. Richard had gone to Boston for the week-end and her husband, in thanking the police for any guard they might post at the home during their absence, said neither he nor his wife knew where Mme. Tchaikovsky had gone.

At the Leeds home in Oyster Bay it was said that Mme. Tchaikovsky would not visit there until the return of Mrs. William B. Leeds, the former Princess Xenia, from her trip to the West Indies.

London, February 12.—(United News).—Disasters in England and on the European continent took a toll of 66 lives over the week-end.

Twenty-one lost their lives in heavy storms in west Norway. Twenty-four fishermen were reported killed after setting out from Leningrad, and 21 lives were lost in a storm which swept the British Isles.

PROPERTY DAMAGES
REPORTED HEAVY.

London, February 12.—(AP)—The total of deaths caused by the gales which have swept western Europe and the north Atlantic during the past few days continued to mount tonight.

Great property loss accompanied the gales on land. Not only were houses blown down and roofs carried away, but the torrential rainfall which accompanied the high winds in the British Isles caused fresh floods.

Ocean Traffic Delayed.

All incoming shipping reports great struggles against the Atlantic gales of the past week.

The steamship Mont Clare, reached Liverpool 24 hours late. The British steamship Sandown Castle, from Tuen to New York, reported by wireless that it was returning to Queens-town with the forehold full of water.

A thrilling struggle of the sea was told in radio reports concerning the difficulties of the tanker Varand on its maiden trip from New Orleans to London.

For 12 days the Varand had been in tow of the Dutch tug Zwartee Zee because of serious damage to its rudder post and propeller, thought to have been struck by striking wreckage during a westerly gale 1,000 miles west of Queens-town.

Daring Climbers Cross
Niagara on Jagged Ice

Niagara Falls, N. Y., February 12.—(AP)—Two men today crossed the "ice bridge" in the Niagara gorge from the Canadian to the American side of the river.

The men, Christian Gay and Ernest Lucas, of Toronto, are the first known to have made the crossing over the jagged frozen ice floes since February 4, 1912. The "bridge" of that year passed out without warning and three persons were carried to death. Officials on both sides of the river agreed after the accident to prohibit anyone's crossing.

Before the accident thousands made the crossing on the ice each year. Gay and Lucas had a hard time today, however, because of the absence of a pathway. They were exhausted and numbed by cold when they landed on the American shore. Their clothing was covered with frozen spray from the cataract.

A reservation patrolman was waiting for them when they reached shore and he turned them over to immigration officials. On the Falls View bridge. They were ordered back to Canada and they made the return trip afoot over the steel structure.

The formation known as the "ice bridge" is not a bridge in the true sense of the word, but a mound of ice across the surface of the Niagara river from shore to shore about 300 feet below the cataract. A severe winter the mound attains great thickness, the spray from the falls adding constantly to the dome-shaped top. The "bridge" this year is thinner than usual because of the mild weather during January.

Sailors Are Swept Overboard as Navy Ship Returns From S-4 Disaster Scene.

Boston, February 12.—(AP)—Two members of the crew of the naval tug Mohave were believed to have been drowned tonight after the craft hit Nantasket beach. First reports received here were that six men had been washed overboard, but a check later revealed that only two were missing.

The Mohave was returning to the Boston navy yard from the scene of the S-4 salvage operations off Provincetown when she ran onto the ledge at low tide. Details regarding the accident were meager. The Boston navy yard received an S O S call from the Mohave followed by a message which said that a large hole had been torn in her hull and that she was losing badly. Communication ceased 15 minutes later when the radio room was flooded.

Parachutes of Instructor and Pupil Rip Open, But Professional Uses Emergency

Santa Monica, Cal., February 12.—(AP)—Mark Spencer, a sailor from the U. S. S. California, was killed in a parachute jump here today. The parachute ripped apart a moment after opening.

Floyd Bowman, a professional parachute jumper, first went up and made a jump to show the sailor how it was done. Bowman's first parachute ripped in coming down and it was only a second, emergency parachute that saved his life.

Undaunted by Bowman's mishap, Spencer took one of the latter's parachutes, went up in a plane and at 3,500 feet dropped off. After falling a thousand feet his parachute opened but only momentarily checked his plunge before it ripped apart and Spencer shot to the pavement of a highway 2,500 feet below.

Naval authorities announced an investigation to determine why the sailor or was not supplied with an emergency parachute.

For The Constitution—Loew's Grand Frolics, after a full dress rehearsal, is all ready for the first curtain this afternoon, opening a one week's engagement at Loew's Grand theater, and what is slated to be one of the biggest entertainment weeks that Atlantans yet been offered.

Under the expert direction of Victor Hyde, whose stage-producing genius took the untrained cast of 50 and in three days brought them to the threshold of perfection, the boys and girls went through their full dress rehearsal Sunday afternoon and tonight, with not a hitch.

Treat of Color.
After more than a week training and practicing in the hotel ballroom in lounge costumes, the boys and girls went to the stage of the Grand theater, and donned an array of striking costumes which, in pure color alone, will provide Atlanta with a treat rare in its beauty.

Elaborate settings and stage scenery provided the last touch, and these boys and girls of ours who but yesterday were busy at school were transformed into the magic realm of the stage, and they're "trouper," every one of them.

For "trouper" is the highest of praise among professional stage folk, and there is not a one among the cast of local boys and girls who doesn't merit it.

When Mr. Hyde called the curtain and the music began, the entire show was presented from start to finish. The first number in the show is the beautiful introductory and the "Golden Gate" hit, which brought spontaneous applause from the small group of spectators.

Farm Number.
"Down on the Farm" presenting the farmers and farmerettes, and characterized by music which has a highly whistleable lilt to it, would do justice to the finest of musical comedies. Also in the production are several specialty numbers, including a whistling exhibition, violin solos, duets, individual "personality" songs and other special features.

What is slated to be one of the most popular numbers of the entire Frolics is the "Blue Heaven" number, a bit specially devised by Mr. Hyde to meet the widespread popularity of the song itself. The "Lingerie numbers," in which 16 pretty girls will model the latest in spring styles, is another striking feature of the production.

Commerce Chief Puts Limit on Expenditures and Demands Fund Accounting.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, February 12.—(United News).—Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, became an avowed presidential candidate today and offered himself to the American voters on a platform pledged to the objectives of President Coolidge.

Hoover made that plain tonight in a letter giving his friends permission to file his name in the Ohio presidential primaries. The secretary announced that he would make no personal campaign. He emphasized that the expenditure of money in his behalf must be strictly limited and rigidly accounted for.

"I shall be glad," he said in a letter to Thad H. Brown, of Columbus, Ohio, "to serve the American people through the republican party in any way that I can in finding constructive solution to the many problems which confront our country."

Opposes Active Campaign.

"My conviction that I should not strive for the nomination and my obligations as secretary of commerce preclude me from making any personal campaign."

"If the greatest trust which can be given by our people should come to me, I should consider it my duty to carry forward the principles of the republican party and the great objectives of President Coolidge's policies—all of which have brought our country to such a high degree of happiness, progress and security."

This is taken here as the formal launching of the Hoover campaign which has been waged under cover for months until the secretary of commerce could announce his candidacy.

Members of U. S. Patrol Escape Unhurt in Skirmish With Nicaraguan Bandits

Managua, Nicaragua, February 12.—(AP)—Five rebels were killed and one was wounded in an encounter with a marine patrol today between San Gregorio and Murray, it was stated in a report to brigade headquarters here. There were no marine casualties.

While details of the skirmish were lacking, brigade officials believe that the marines, located the band, the night before and engaged them as soon as daylight permitted. The country in that section is rough and heavily timbered. Airplane patrols returning from the Matagalpa region this afternoon reported no sight of Augustino Sandino, the rebel leader.

It is believed that he has gone to the northern end of Matagalpa instead of to the southeast, as previously reported, since the use of the safe arrival of an ox-cart loaded with supplies and guarded by only two marines has been reported from Matagalpa.

HICKMAN DEFENSE FACES BUSY WEEK

Los Angeles, February 12.—(AP)—While defense attorneys utilized the double holiday of today and tomorrow in preparation of extensive briefs and arguments supporting their motion for a new trial, William Edward

Hickman, slayer of Marian Parker, lay rested from the ordeal of his trial, apparently resigned to whatever the future may hold in store for him. The motion will be heard before Judge J. J. Trabucco Tuesday morning and if denied, sentence immediately will follow. Judge Trabucco has announced that he will receive evidence concerning the commission of the crime in order that he may determine legally the circumstances surrounding it before deciding whether Hickman should be sentenced to hang or serve a term of life imprisonment. The motion for a new trial is regarded in local legal circles as purely formal and no hope is expressed that Judge Trabucco will grant it. If the new trial is denied the defense immediately will announce an appeal, defense counsel has said.

After his appearance Tuesday, Hickman will have to appear in court again Wednesday to answer a charge of murder in connection with the shooting of C. Ivy Thoms, Rose Hill druggist, on Christmas evening, 1926. With the "Fox" will appear Welby Hunt, his 16-year-old associate in the drug store holdup, to which both have confessed.

Kipling Uses His Pen as 'Big Stick' To Collect Fund

Ticehurst, England, February 12.—(AP)—Rudyard Kipling's pen looks more like a big stick than it does a sword to the Ticehurst rural district council. In a squabble regarding flood damages to Kipling's Burwash property, the author recently wrote the council that although he was "extremely adverse to litigation" he would place the matter in the hands of his solicitors unless the council soon made amends. After reading the letter to his colleagues, Chairman Spring Rice declared "we can see the big stick which Kipling has waved at us and I consider it most unbecoming."

TWO JAIL-BREAKERS WANTED IN MOBILE CAUGHT AT SELMA

Mobile, Ala., February 12.—(AP)—Frank Stamp, of Savannah, Ga., and Lonnie Taylor, of Mobile, two of three federal prisoners who broke jail here Thursday morning by sawing the bars of their cells, are under arrest at Selma, Ala., according to information received by Sheriff Byrne, of Mobile, today. The two men were caught with an automobile they had stolen in Meridian, Miss., according to the Selma officials. Stamp was under three-year sentence to the federal penitentiary for automobile theft and Taylor was awaiting trial on the same charge. Andrew Robinson, a third escapee, is still at large.

BIBLE INSTITUTE IN MOVIES COMES HERE WEDNESDAY

Movies will bring the famous Moody Bible institute to Atlanta Wednesday. A four-reel film, called "Life at the Moody Bible Institute," will be shown at the Baptist Tabernacle at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday in what is believed an innovation in religious promotion. The film is being used to bring the actual work of students in the institution to people in all parts of the nation. Everyday programs of work, study and evangelism are vividly portrayed and are presented in this church cinema without plot or story but in day-by-day actuality. The common conception of a lifeless and drab existence in a Bible school is expected to be exploded with the showing of this film. Among the portrayals will be a depiction of the outreach of missionary endeavor and the fields where nearly 1,400 Moody graduates and ex-students are working.

The Moody institute is located in Chicago, and in this picture its students are shown visiting missions, jails and hospitals of that city to sing, pray and read scriptures to the unfortunate inmates. At present more than 1,500 students are enrolled in the Moody institute and their work is done in 24 buildings located on several city blocks. George W. Hayward, field promoter of motion picture activity for the institute, will assist the movie by explaining to the gathering the high lights of the institute's work as they are flashed on the screen.

ATLANTIC AIR MAIL SOUGHT BY FRANCE

United News Staff Correspondent.
Paris, February 12.—France will be the first off in the international race to capture trans-Atlantic air mail contracts, it was learned today. In March her planes will wing across the south Atlantic delivering Paris mail in Buenos Aires within one week, while the De-De-France, with an aeroplane deck, will send rush mail into New York by air, five days from Paris.

Lead German Companies.
By getting off in March for South America, France takes the lead from German air companies. German dirigible builders have underway a super-Zeppelin of 350,000 cubic feet capacity, which is expected to make the trip from Seville, Spain, to Buenos Aires in less than four days. Spanish capital is back of the Zeppelin project, with government aid. The French government has subventioned, to the extent of 38,000,000 francs, the Latécoere company for the south Atlantic service.

Both governments realize the importance, to their national prestige, of entering air mails into South America. Government Is Active.
The French government has rebuilt and loaned to the Latécoere company five naval dispatch boats of 1,000 tons each for the 1,325-mile stretch across the Atlantic from Cape Verde to the Noronha Islands. The rest of the distance will be covered by planes. The Argentine and Uruguayan governments have already given ten-year mail contracts to the French firm and Brazil and Chile are expected to do the same. The company will obtain approximately two cents a gram for letters from Argentina to Brazil and six cents a gram for letters from Argentina to Europe.

HOPE ABANDONED FOR RETRIED IN MINE.
Whitehaven, Eng., February 12.—(United News.)—Hope was abandoned tonight for 13 members of a mine inspection party who were in a coal pit here when it exploded. The pit will be sealed.

The explosion occurred early today in the Haig pit, in which four men were killed last December. The party descended to decide upon the feasibility of reopening the mine. They reopened the sealed workings, which, it was believed, caused the release of gas. In addition to the 13 entombed men, a second party of eight was in the mine at the time of the explosion. The members of the latter party, though dazed by the shock, managed to reach the shaft. Two government inspectors were among the missing.

ARMORED CAVALRY UNIT IS ORGANIZED FOR FIELD SERVICE

Washington, February 12.—(United Press.)—The army has organized its first armored motor car unit, the first step toward an armored car unit to all cavalry divisions, the war department announces. The first unit will be attached to the first cavalry division, Fort Bliss, Texas.

NINE INJURED IN STREET CAR CRASH IN JACKSONVILLE

Jacksonville, Fla., February 12.—(AP)—Nine persons, seven of them injured, were injured early tonight when a trolley of the Jacksonville Traction company crashed into the rear of another car. A conductor and motorman were the white men hurt. None of the passengers was believed to be fatally injured.

BEBE DANIELS IMPROVED AFTER DAY IN HOSPITAL

Los Angeles, February 12.—(AP)—Bebe Daniels, screen actress who was injured in an accident yesterday during the filming of a picture, was resting easily today and physicians said she would be able to resume work soon.

It was at first feared that Miss Daniels had suffered internal injuries and broken bones. X-ray plates, however, showed that she sustained nothing worse than a sprained back and bruises. The accident resulted when an improvised Pullman car in which Miss Daniels was riding mounted on a truck was swept off its moving foundation by an overhanging tree branch.

BRIDEGROOM 'SHY' OF TAXI; COPS SPOIL WEDDING 'EFFECT'

Chicago, February 12.—(AP)—Edward Kostur refused to ride to his wedding today in a taxicab. He said it would spoil the effect.

After running through his list of friends for an owner of a limousine, he left the wedding party but in a short time arrived at Holy Trinity church. As he stepped from a new limousine, attired in evening garb two detectives caught him for the postponement of the marriage by taking him to the police station to explain how and where he obtained the automobile.

Girl, 20, Faces Trial Tomorrow on Charge of Killing Her Father

Wentworth, N. C., February 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Alma Petty Gatlin, 20, charged with the murder of her father, Smith T. Petty, in their home at Beaufort, was to stand trial tomorrow in Rockingham county superior court here Tuesday. A special venire has been summoned from Stokes county and many witnesses have been subpoenaed to appear in the case. While court is scheduled to convene tomorrow, it was said today that preliminaries will take up all of that day.

CHILD TRAINING REV. HOLMES TOPIC

Proper home training of children and exertion of the right moral influence on them were stressed by Rev. R. R. Holmes in a sermon Sunday afternoon in the chapel of Holmes institute. Rev. Holmes stated that 50 per cent of the crime was directly traceable to the lack of proper training as children.

FIND HERMIT SLAIN IN KENTUCKY HOME

Scottsville, Ky., February 12.—(AP) Albert A. Claypool, 72, known to his neighbors as a learned hermit, was found slain in his two-room cottage here today. His neck had been broken and his body bore a number of bruises. The room in which he was found had been ransacked and an attempt apparently had been made to set fire to the house. Claypool was said to have been the first graduate of Eden college, now consolidated with the Western State Normal Teachers' college. He spoke nine languages fluently, neighbors said.

500 HUNT BODIES OF LOST DEPUTIES

Lafayette, Ind., February 12.—(United News.)—Five hundred policemen in 200 automobiles searched northern Indiana and Illinois today for the bodies of two Tippecanoe county deputy sheriffs believed to have been murdered by two convicts they were taking to the state reformatory at Pendleton, Ind.

The search was led by Sheriff Charles Johnson, who entrusted Deputy John P. Grouse and Wallace McChure with guarding Samuel Baxter and John Burns, holdup men, who had been sentenced to five years in the reformatory. Hope that the deputies might have been kidnapped and were being held alive was virtually abandoned when the automobile used by the officers was found in Decatur, Ill. The condition of the car indicated that the handcuffed prisoners in the back seat had shot the two officers who were riding in front. Several bullet holes were found. It was reported also that Burns and Baxter had been visited by friends before they left the Lafayette jail Tuesday morning and it was presumed they were supplied with guns at that time.

SUSPECT IS ARRESTED AT ORLANDO, FLA.

Orlando, Fla., February 12.—(AP)—Chief of Police H. F. Baker announced tonight that a young man held on suspicion of being one of the two prisoners who disappeared with two Indiana deputy sheriffs en route to the state reformatory in Pendleton, Ind., last Tuesday had been released. Descriptions of the missing prisoners supplied by the Indiana authorities failed to tally with the man held here.

'White Way Cross' Plan of Lighting For Milledgeville

Milledgeville, Ga., February 12.—Milledgeville city council has accepted the proposal of the Georgia Power company to install a "White Way" for Milledgeville. Work is to commence at once, and the new "white way" will extend from Jefferson to Clark streets on Hancock street and from Green to McIntosh streets on Wayne street. It will cover six blocks and will be in the shape of a cross. It is said that this will be the only perfect "white way cross" in the United States. The new lights will join the G. M. C. and G. S. C. W. college campuses and include the city post-office, the courthouse, city hall and the main business section of town.

PARKS MEMORIAL FUND COMPLETED, G. S. C. W. REPORTS

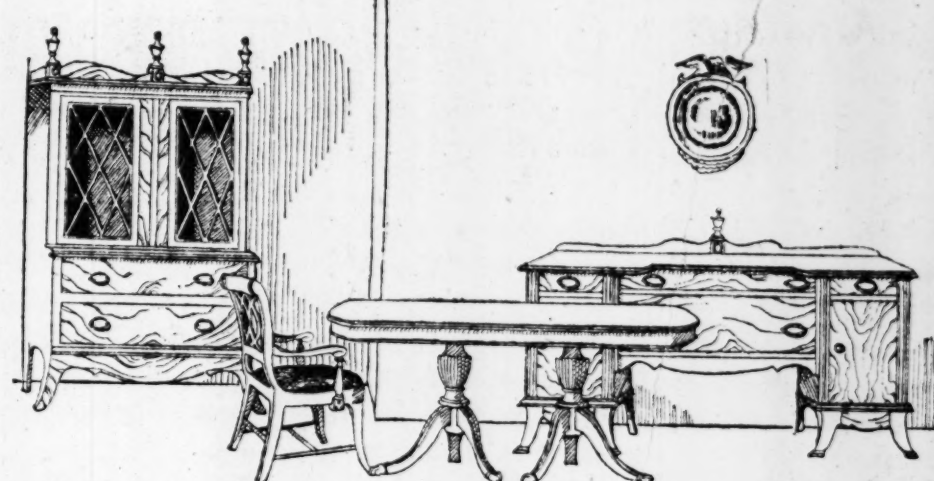

Milledgeville, Ga., February 12.—The Marvin M. Parks Memorial hospital will be formally presented to the Georgia State College for Women by the G. S. C. W. Alumnae association during the commencement exercises in June, according to an announcement just made here by Miss Mary Brooks, president of the alumnae association.

After the death of the late President Parks this association immediately decided upon the erection of some memorial in his memory. The hospital had been a cherished dream of the president himself, and the association voted to build it after his death. Judge Richard B. Russell, president of the board of trustees, will represent the officials in accepting the gift from the alumnae association.

M. L. Thrower Will Speak Feb. 26 in Waycross Church

Wacross, Ga., February 12.—M. L. Thrower, Atlanta, president of the Business Men's Evangelical club of Georgia, will speak at the First Presbyterian church of Waycross Sunday, February 26, it is announced.

Watch Your Kidneys After Colds and Grip!

Many Functional Kidney Disorders Are the Result of Germ Diseases

DOES winter find you lame, stiff and achy? Do you feel tired, drowsy—suffer nagging backache, headache and dizzy spells? Are the kidney secretions too frequent, scanty or burning in passage? Do you wonder what is wrong?

Know then that these are often signs of improper kidney action. Colds and grip increase the poisons in the blood and bring extra work to the kidneys. When the kidneys act sluggishly, waste impurities remain in the blood and cause many unpleasant symptoms.

One is apt to feel tired and drowsy—to have a dull, nagging backache and annoying headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not working right is often shown by too frequent, scanty or burning secretions.

Thousands have learned to rely on Doan's Pills after winter's colds and chills. Doan's, a stimulant diuretic, increase the secretion of the kidneys and thus aid in the elimination of waste impurities. They have earned a nation-wide reputation. Ask your neighbor!

Insist on the Genuine Doan's and Refuse Substitutes.

The genuine Doan's Pills may be identified by the maple leaf trade mark and the signature "Jas. Doan." They are sold by good dealers everywhere and have been publicly endorsed by more than 50,000 satisfied users. Demand the genuine Doan's and don't accept a substitute.

ENGLISH HONOR
POPE AT SERVICE ON ANNIVERSARY

London, February 12.—(P)—Near 5,000 English Catholics joined today in a remarkable celebration in Westminster cathedral of the sixth anniversary of the coronation of Pope Pius XI.

The celebration with its imposing ritual, testifying spiritual faith to the head of the church, was held at vesper.

ROSENWALD'S SON AND VIENNESE WED
IN PLAIN CEREMONY

Chicago, February 12.—(P)—William Rosenwald, youngest son of Julius Rosenwald, millionaire Chicago philanthropist, and Miss Renee Scharf, of Vienna, Austria, a daughter of Victor Scharf, noted Viennese portrait painter, were married at the Rosenwald home today.

The ceremony was simple, due to the illness of Mrs. Julius Rosenwald. Only members of both families attended.

Portrait by Thomas Sully
Added to Local Collection

Portrait of the Rev. George Houston, by Thomas Sully.

A portrait of the Rev. George Houston, descendant of one of Georgia's oldest families, has been purchased by the Atlanta Art association for its collection of valuable paintings. The portrait is the work of Thomas Sully and is one in which are combined great artistic merit and a wealth of historic interest.

The portrait was painted at the request of Lady Houston, grandmother of the subject. Lady Houston was the wife of Sir George Houston, who was prominent in early Georgia history and who was related to "Patrick

Houston, whose grave is in a Savannah cemetery.

Houston county and Houston street in Atlanta are named for this family. J. Carroll Payne, president of the association, says of the Sully canvas: "We are particularly fortunate in procuring this unusual painting. The sensitive face of the subject has been handled in a refined, delicate manner, characteristic of Sully's work. It is our hope to add more examples of such excellent work of the American school to our collection."

The portrait was purchased from the Lucius Perry Hill fund.

'POWER LOBBY' HIT
IN PROBE DEMANDS

Washington, February 12.—(United News).—One of the most dramatic fights in this session begins in the senate this week when the Walsh resolution to investigate the power industry will be debated.

The issue is whether the investigation shall be made by a special committee through open hearings or by the federal trade commission under its strict rules which would forbid its going into related questions of political activities and lobbying, according to Walsh.

Walsh Assails Lobbyists.

Much lobbying by the power industries is alleged by Walsh. Two ex-senators with the privilege of going on the senate floor, have been active. A former secretary of the treasury and a number of lawyers have contributed their talents to throw the investigation into the hands of the federal trade commission.

Some are opposed to the senate making the investigation because they fear that it would take a political turn with a campaign approaching. If the senate made the inquiry Senator Walsh probably would be the chief figure in it and some believe that this might favorably influence his chances for the democratic presidential nomination.

Georgian Backs Inquiry.

The proposal to have the federal trade commission make the inquiry is backed by Senator George, of Georgia, with support from both sides. Former Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, issued a statement tonight opposing the investigation by the commission.

"The mere fact that this effort is being made is conclusive evidence that the power interests are afraid of what would be disclosed by an investigation under Walsh," Pinchot said, "but they are not afraid that the federal trade commission would develop the facts they want to keep hidden."

"The power lobby is trying to pick its own jury."

Monthly Meeting.

BIRTH RATE SCORED BY CHURCH HEAD

Milan, Italy, February 12.—(P)—The gospel of large families which Mussolini has been preaching is indorsed in the latest pastoral of Cardinal Tosi, archbishop of Milan, wherein he laments the falling birth rate and extols the premier for his courageous stand in the matter.

He cites "a neighboring country" which is assumedly France, where each census shows fewer children and says that Italy does not want such a condition, which would amount to a catastrophe for the country.

TEAPOT DOME QUIZ HALTS THREE DAYS

SINCLAIR IN GEORGIA.
Thomasville, Ga., February 12. (AP)—Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate and at present under fire in the senate in connection with the congressional Teapot Dome oil reserve investigation, arrived here yesterday. He is the guest of Harry Payne Whitney, noted sportsman, at the latter's winter home, Floriana, 20 miles south of this city.

Sinclair, who came here ahead of his private car, is expected to remain as Mr. Whitney's guest until Monday or Tuesday. It is understood that the visit is without any special significance other than merely a weekend visit to an old friend. He has visited here on several previous occasions.

Washington, February 12. (AP)—Unless important developments occur to change its plans, the senate oil committee will not meet again until Thursday to resume its investigation to determine all of the beneficiaries of the more than $2,000,000 profits of the Continental Trading Company of Canada from an oil transaction consummated in the United States.

Although scores of witnesses, the most recent of whom was John D. Rockefeller, Jr., have failed to enlighten the committee as to the ultimate destination of most of the profits, it will be unrelenting in its efforts to uncover someone who can and will disclose the long-sought information.

Has Will Be Called.
Will H. Hays, former chairman of the republican national committee, is expected to be asked to appear, but not in time for the resumption of hearings Thursday.

He will be questioned as to information turned over to the committee by its own agents that certain of the missing Continental funds had been used to discharge debts of the republican national committee after the Harding campaign of 1920.

Hays, now head of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors' association, in a telegram to the committee from Hollywood, Cal., last night, said that while he had no knowledge of the Continental company or the distribution of any of its profits in Liberty bonds, he would gladly appear before it if invited.

Promises Sweeping Inquiry.
Rockefeller, while unable to throw any light on the bonds in his testimony Saturday, declared the entire oil industry was under suspicion because of the facts uncovered and those still to be unearthed in the inquiry, and he promised the investigators he would do all he could to help them.

His first move, he said, would be to direct all officials of the companies in which he has any interest to determine whether by any chance any of the Continental funds are in or have passed through the treasury of those companies in ordinary business transactions.

Rockefeller and Neighbor Make Peace After 25 Years

COSTS JOHN D. $40,000 TO SETTLE FEUD
Tarrytown, N. Y., February 12. (United News)—For the first time in 25 years untroubled neighbors serenely sit together in the Rockefeller family, oil people, and the Foleys, milkmen.

The last visit of an ancient feud vanished this week-end in the sale of the Foley property at Tarrytown to the Rockefellers. John D. Rockefeller got one of the last remaining large parcels in the Pocantico Hills, and the Foleys got their price—$40,000 for one and three-quarter acres.

As long as the Foleys remained in Pocantico Hills, the Rockefeller development could not proceed along plans made 25 years ago, as the unknown but stubborn Foleys owned a key parcel.

Soon after the Rockefellers went to Pocantico Hills, Rockefeller had a cross-country road through his place closed, despite the opposition of the late Michael Foley. The elder Foley succeeded in keeping the road in front of his property open and then died, bequeathing the property and the fight to his son, John J. Foley, a milkman.

The latter fought Rockefeller's second proposal to close the Longwood road two years ago, but lost.

Some weeks ago, the state highway department mapped out the proposed crossing of the Putnam division railroad. The lines indicated the Foley property would be cut off from exit to the main highway. The Foleys hired lawyers to protect their interests.

Then one day, Foley met John D. Rockefeller, Jr., while driving through the Rockefeller place. They shook hands and agreed to talk things over. Under terms of the sale, the widow of the undaunted Michael Foley will be permitted to remain on the home, stand indefinitely under the protection of the Rockefeller's guard.

Over-Privileged Youth
LIONS HEAD REFUTES MENCKENIAN CRITICISMS
Biggest Problem, Says Camp

BY CRAIG F. THOMPSON.
Henry L. Mencksen's club deriders were flayed militantly by Irving Camp, international president of Lions clubs, on his arrival in Atlanta Sunday. At the same time Mr. Camp advanced what may be a new thought in social work when he declared that it is not the under-privileged but the over-privileged boys and girls of today that constitute the greatest problem in human reconstruction.

"Mencksen, Sinclair Lewis, and their followers shout, in their peculiar ululant manner, about the uselessness of service clubs," Mr. Camp said. "But they're all wrong."

"I won't attempt to go into the activities of other clubs or organizations. They are all doing great work. But I know what the Lions are doing. In Pennsylvania the Lions succeeded in getting the state legislature, three years ago, to pass a law making it compulsory to use prophylactics at child birth for the prevention of blindness. Since then the number of children born with optical defects has decreased from over 20 per cent to about eight per cent. In Houston, Texas, the Lions maintain a school for blind children, and you know what that does for what a great service that is rendering."

New Haven and Waterbury, Conn. REGISTER BABIES FOR CLINIC TODAY

Irving Camp, of Johnstown, Pa., international president of Lions clubs, Joseph B. Wolfe, president of the Atlanta club, will be master of ceremonies tonight, and also attending it will be twenty young women workers, representing as many business houses affiliated with the Lions in this service, and their managers.

J. J. Russell, in charge of the clinic campaign, expects that all of the 1,000 allowed registrations will be filled by Tuesday night. He, therefore, advises mothers to get the names of their infants in early.

Twins, triplets, quadruplets or what you have are eligible for the clinic. The week following registrations will be devoted to making appointments for the mothers at the clinic. The week following that, or beginning Monday morning, February 27, examinations of the babies will be conducted at the Medical Arts building, with 75 Atlanta doctors participating. A baby will be examined every eight minutes under the present schedule.

The babies will be charted for perceptions and reflexes. Each mother will be given this chart. If her baby is defective in any manner, she is, in this way, provided with a basis to intelligently effect its cure. The best baby, physically, will be acclaimed "Atlanta's most perfect baby." In a parallel contest, the baby proving the most popular will be crowned "Atlanta's baby queen."

The young women representing the business firms associated with this service are engaged in a ticket selling contest. The tickets are for admission to the coronation ball on March 3, at which time the girl having sold the greatest number of tickets will be crowned queen by Governor L. G. Hardman. She will also get a new Willys-Knight sedan. The funds that she and her 19 co-workers raise will finance the undertaking and all that is left over, if any, will be turned into the Lions under-privileged child fund.

FULLER CALLAWAY DIES IN LA GRANGE

a married life of the highest idealism. The second business adventure grew to sizeable proportions, and, in quest of expansion, Mr. Callaway found that LaGrange would support only one 32-part store, as it would only one 5-and-10-cent store.

Balloon Show.
And so he branched out into a neighboring town, in the face of a store operated for many years by a native of the town. On the opening day of this new store he staged a free balloon ascension, and that then spectacular sight brought people from many miles around to the scene.

Immediately afterward, he started stores in two other communities, and they were all highly successful. He then became interested in the whole-sale end of the business, and gradually sold his retail stores, increasing the size of his wholesale establishment.

The pursuit of trade for this wholesale enterprise led Mr. Callaway over the state, and he became interested in the needs of the farmers, and so became identified with the lending of money, and the construction of cotton gins and warehouses.

With two mills already in LaGrange, Mr. Callaway, in 1914, he began construction of his cotton gin, and he has since been constructing. Today he has four in LaGrange which have operated 24 hours a day since they were constructed.

Mr. Callaway met the same problem of caring for his employees with his customary acumen. He built homes, churches, hotels and the relations between himself and his employees were always of the most congenial sort. His workers, housed in nice homes, paid adequate salaries and with every other necessity cared for, seldom left his employ.

And so he built, step by step, with his remarkable commercial progress of his enterprises, a massive edifice of good-will and love among his employees and his friends. National attention came to his philanthropy, but he remained through it all, a "LaGrange boy who stayed at home."

PINCHOT CHARGES BIG POWER LOBBY IMPEDES PROBE
Washington, February 12. (AP)—The existence of a "power lobby," the most formidable ever concentrated in Washington, which is working to prevent an investigation of the electric industry by a congressional committee as proposed by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, was charged today in a statement by Gifford Pinchot, former governor of Pennsylvania.

N. Y. Movie Concern Sends to Valdosta To 'Shoot' Blossoms
Valdosta, Ga., February 12.—Peach blossom time in south Georgia was transferred to movie films yesterday by a cameraman from the M. G. M. news-gathering organization of New York. Manager Matt Whitman, of the Ritz theater, induced the company to send the movie camera here to take these early blossoms.

A group of pupils from Mrs. L. G. Young's dancing school worked into the film making a most attractive picture. It was stated that this film would be released on M. G. M. news reels Monday and shown on every screen served by that concern.

OLD WORLD TOMB YIELDS TREASURE

Philadelphia, February 12. (AP)—Discovery of the tomb of a Sumerian queen, which apparently was left undisturbed by vandals, has yielded her royal husband's grave nearby some 5,000 years ago, has given to the joint expedition of the museum of the University of Pennsylvania and the British museums the richest treasures thus far found in U. of the Old World, says a report received from U. of the University.

In the newly-discovered grave were lying not only the body of the queen, whose name, "Shub-Ad," appeared on a cylinder seal she wore, but also two crowns of gold and lapis, gold finger rings, necklaces, amulets, a richly decorated cloak, innumerable silver and stone vessels, and a variety of other excellent examples of early Sumerian art.

The queen's tomb was found slanting on the first tomb, which, although empty was believed to be that of the king, and in the middle was a burial pit containing the bodies of more than fifty men and women and resembling in many respects the burial of the queen made her internment the occasion of robbing her husband's grave.

While the contents of the queen's tomb were intact, the adjoining tomb of the king had been broken into and plundered. On the basis of evidence furnished by the archaeologists, they concluded that the very persons who buried the queen made her internment the occasion of robbing her husband's grave.

In addition to their value from an archaeological standpoint, the two tombs contribute information of great importance for the history of architecture, in that both tombs had doorways crowned by a true arch of baked bricks and their chambers were vaulted with arches of which a few rings still remain.

Heretofore, the report stated, the oldest arch known in the world was found over a drain dating back to the third millennium B. C. It was discovered in Nippur by the university's expedition at that ancient city.

LINDBERGH TO FLY BACK HOME TODAY

ference, and several American tourists were passengers in a series of eight morning flights.

Invitations to the Havana race track and other amusements were declined. Lindbergh made a trip to the flying field, satisfied himself that the Spirit of St. Louis was in readiness for an early start, and returned to the home of Ambassador Noble Brandon.

Here he had an early dinner, and retired to his room for a good night's rest for tomorrow's ordeal.

Lindbergh had previously expressed confidence of making the Havana-St. Louis jump without special effort. On his arrival from Port-au-Prince he declared the tanks of his plane contained enough gasoline to carry him all the way home. Questioned as to possible difficulty in getting off from Columbia flying field, he replied he had no doubts. Perfect flying weather has prevailed in Cuba for many days.

Lindbergh's route, as announced Saturday, will take him from Havana to Key West, his only land over water, the route follows the west coast of Florida, and skirts the Gulf of Mexico along coasts of gas tanks to a point directly south of St. Louis.

Here the coast will be abruptly abandoned for a line due north to St. Louis. It was estimated the arrival at Lambert field will be shortly after dusk, although Lindbergh had said he would not attempt to fix the hour of his arrival.

Shortly before retiring last night, Lindbergh confided to correspondents his intention of temporarily retiring from all public activities. He intends dropping out of the limelight for an indefinite period and will take time to enjoy a complete rest.

Although Lindbergh insisted that his plans are still vague, it was understood he is considering an invitation from St. Louis associates to go to the Maine woods for a protracted vacation.

According to his own announcement, he will make several trips over his old air-mail route between St. Louis and Chicago. After that, nothing definite has been planned.

FLIER SETS NEW "1,000" RECORD AT MINNEAPOLIS.
Minneapolis, February 12. (AP)—A new world's record of 1,000 loops in an airplane was shown in a figure recorded here was established at World-Chamberlain airport today by Charles "Speed" Holman, of Minneapolis, chief pilot of the Northwest airways. The former record of 515 was established February 4 by Gene Shank, of St. Paul.

Lois Thero, of Minneapolis, also beat Shank's mark when he looped 543 times. Holman, who won the class A cross-country air derby last fall, was in the air from 1:10 a. m. to 1:10 p. m.

In their effects upon the bowels and its lining membranes they are far less irritating. Indeed, many have qualities that make them soothing and healing. Sugar-coated pills are pleasant to take, which may add to their danger. They are no less habit-forming and drastic because they appeal to the taste."

Cake-Eaters, Bums Vanish In Return of Old 'Shanghai'

New York, February 12. (United News)—The "boys" along Old South street—where sailors from the Seven Seas still gather when ships are docked in New York—were stirred tonight by the almost forgotten charge of "Shanghai."

Old South street isn't what it used to be. The forest of tall spars is no longer there. The waterfront saloons are not so conspicuous. The gambling joints are more discreetly hidden away, and the rollicking songs of the sea no longer can be heard as a quartet of boisterous sailors make their uncertain course from joint to joint.

But there were reminiscences tonight of those colorful days when Silas B. Axtell, of the Amalgamated Maritime Port committee of New York, let it be known that the old-fashioned system of filling out ships' crews by kidnapping (shanghaiing them) has been revived.

Boys in bell-bottom trousers and men who have drifted into the city seeking work are said to fall asleep in Bowery speakeasies and wake up out of sight of land. Their heads pain them, sometimes from liquor and drug fumes and sometimes from the thump of a blackjack. They find their names, or at any rate a name attributed to them, signed to the ship's papers.

The new friend who "stood them to a drink" is not aboard. Their memory about the whole affair is hazy. When they get back to New York weeks or months later, there are few who could make out a case in court. The "crimprers" are usually shrewd in their selection of victims.

But now things are different. And so Axtell has called a meeting of the "amalgamated" committee, to include representatives of seven sailors and maritime workers' organizations, for February 20, to consider the revived practice of "shanghaiing" and discuss the three bills looking toward relief of American shipping now pending in congress.

Axtell hopes to put an end to "crimpring" through a permanent organization of the Amalgamated Maritime Port committee and expects representatives from the Neptune association, the Ocean association, the M. E. B. A., the Eastern Gulf Sailors' association, the Marine Cooks and Stewards, the Marine Firemen's union and the American Marine Mutual Association of Boston to assist him.

There were grizzled old salts along Old South street tonight who nodded at a blackjack. They knew whereof he spoke. But stop it!

"You can't keep a man from getting drunk, can you?" queried one of the veterans.

"And if a man gets drunk down here in these parts—well, he may show up again in this port. Then, again, maybe he won't."

RED PERIL SPREADS AS HUNANESE JOIN OUTBREAK IN CHINA
Canton, China, February 12. (AP)—The red menace to life and property throughout Kwangtung province is spreading. The communists of that province are being reinforced by 17,000 red Hunanese troops who are advancing into northern Kwangtung.

The communist activities, whose latest outbreak in Canton in December resulted in death to a thousand persons, are again assuming considerable importance. Wholesale murder of land owners and merchants have been committed by the forces of the communist established by more than a million farmers, fishermen and salt workers who have adopted the communist cause.

2 POLICEMEN DEAD AS RESULT OF FRAY IN RAID ON NEGRO
Providence, R. I., February 12. (AP)—Two policemen died here today of pistol wounds received when they raided the home of Nathan Brown, 22-year-old negro, yesterday.

Brown, who is accused of firing on the police was captured after a siege in which tear gas and riot guns were used. The liquor squad seized one gallon of liquor.

Cleveland Symphony Ticket Sale To Begin on Tuesday

Tickets for the concert by the Cleveland Symphony orchestra will go on sale at Cable Piano company on Tuesday morning, instead of Monday, as erroneously announced Sunday. The concert by this symphony organization of 90 men, ranked among the first three of the nation, is to be given next Friday night at the auditorium.

It is one of the Artist Series of attractions sponsored by the Southern Music bureau.

Inasmuch as this will be the only first-class symphony attraction for Atlanta this season it is expected that the demand for tickets will be unusually heavy. S. Russell Bridges, president of the bureau, in fact, is anticipating the biggest crowd of any concert attraction in the past few years and states that he would not be surprised to see a full house, despite the large size of the auditorium.

Music critics in New York, after a recent concert there, were unanimous in declaring the work of the Cleveland orchestra as the very first rank and they were particularly loud in their praise of the program selection and the cooperation secured by Nikolai Sokoloff from his men.

ScotMcDougal Will Oppose Hanson Here

Plenty of Action Promised Thursday; Prices Are Cut for Next Show.

Plenty of action has been insured in the main event of the wrestling card at the city auditorium Thursday night by the signing of Scott McDougal to oppose Charles Hanson, the famous Swede, in the two-hour main event of the last card to be staged here this month. Matchmaker John Contos announced the signing of McDougal Sunday.

Dick Daviscourt and Paul Jones are the only wrestlers who have been able to handle McDougal in his Atlanta matches, and Scotty, being rather proud of that record, will put forth his best efforts in the laudable attempt to ward off defeat at the hands of Hanson, who has had only one engagement here this season.

Skilled Wrestler. However, in that one appearance Hanson proved to the satisfaction of all concerned that he is well skilled in the art of house crushing and muscle bending and with his speed and native skill he will give the terrible Scot plenty of trouble. On top of that Hanson has been back in the game for three or four years, meeting and defeating some of the best grapplers in the game.

Contos has announced that he will secure two well-known wrestlers for the one-hour preliminary of the show and owing to the fact that he is offering only two matches instead of the usual three, he is putting the card on at exceptionally low prices.

The ringside seats have been reduced 50 per cent, and the price of admission to the other sections of the auditorium. This is the last show that Contos will stage here before March, at which time he hopes to present the winner of the Stetson-Lewis scrap at St. Louis. Contos will offer the championship bout in that city for the sole purpose of trying to sign the winner for an Atlanta appearance.

Stribling Signs For Clancey Bout

Montgomery, Ala., February 12.—(AP) W. L. (Young) Stribling, Macon light heavyweight, and Joe Clancey, of Detroit, have been signed to meet here in a ten-round bout, February 25. The show will be under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion. On the same card "Baby" Stribling will box Johnny Kearney, of New Orleans, in another ten-rounder.

The fight show here will be one of the few occasions on which both of the Stribling brothers have appeared. They have announced that they will fly here from their home in Macon.

SOUTHERN BOYS OUTNUMBER NORTHERNERS IN MAJORS

Baseball Writers Will Soon Be Leaving for South

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER
New York, February 12.—The baseball industry or national pastime, as it is euphemistically called at times, is beginning to attract attention again and in a short time there will be flashlight shots in the rotogravures of the deluxe trains waving goodbye to winter snow, or words to that effect. Such a group usually consists of from four to six baseball writers looking as though they dread the beginning of another ordeal of golf interrupted by 500 words a day. Two club secretaries, several travelling drummers, who just happened to stroll out on to the observation platform in time to be mistaken for Darryl Vance, an assistant clerk of the municipal court and friend of the club owner who has saved his vacation from the preceding summer and a recruit outfielder from the semi-pros who is paying his own freight south for a trial on the off chance that the manager will find him a varsity job in Wichita when the regular season begins.

Along the route, the train may pick up an actual ball player or two to replace the departed players as a baseball squad on the way to the training camp. But in all likelihood the regular players will be found at the trainer's site having driven in by buckboard or trailer from their various homes not very far away. All except Ed Roush, who will be holding out if there is anything in it.

It would be more formal if all the ballplayers actually attached to the ball clubs were together in the favored city for an official departure, but it would also be very expensive and foolish, so the baseball writers, for once in the season, are allowed to have their pictures in the paper under the generic term of "Camp Followers" or "Hangers-On," in order to detract emphasis from the season's start.

It seems that a major portion of the ball players are southern men, but why there are so many more major leaguers in the south territory than in the north is a question which general statistics may even prove that there aren't. But I get the impression that the southern boys outnumber the northern by hearing so much about Cobb and Speaker and Hornsby, Travis, Jackson, Bill Terry, Ike Boone, Earl Combs, the Sewell boys of Alabama and a lot of others from down yonder way.

This Will Keep. However, that is something that will keep and I am getting at the misleading character of this term "training camp" which is applied to quite a number of cities. The writers, dotted palms in the lobbies and fiddle and drum orchestras playing from twelve to one thirty and from six until nine on the mezzanine balconies, have been in quite a number of these training headquarters and I find the camp life to be not so different from the sort of camp life you would find in the West. However, the writers have been in two cases. One of those cases was that of the Indians when Mr. Speaker was handling them and quartered them in a strange wooden building in the city of Lakeland, Fla. which actually was something like what you might expect a hunting camp to be, except that it was not farther from the movies and the traffic lights than you could shoot a marble with a sprained thumb.

Yet, they had no camp table in Mr. Speaker's place and I was considerably taken aback when I discovered that instead of hunting in chairs in a general mess the ball players, or most of them, were shopping for their meals at a modest sandwich and soft drink establishment down the block, known by a name that shall not be repeated in a breakfast table newspaper. I learned that by the exercise of frugality in this place one might get by for as little as $1.25 a day and that the ball players were receiving a ration allowance of $3.50 each, cash money, for their subsistence.

The other training camp that I discovered was that of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the frugal regime of the late Mr. Charlie Ebbets. The unmarried ball players, who usually are quartered in a place called a hotel and when I arrived there late one evening and asked for a room with a bath the manager told me the desk laughed scornfully and said: "Yes, and I suppose you are one of those guys who wants a napkin with your dinner. We haven't got no rooms with no baths, but you can sleep in the broom locker."

I discovered the next day that the married athletes of the Brooklyn franchise had found other quarters around the town, insisting that the hotel was no place to take a lady. I also discovered that Mr. Ebbets himself did not live at the hotel either, he apparently held that it was not any place for a gentleman.

Bass To Be Out Of Ring 3 Months

New York, February 12.—(United News) Tony Bass, of Philadelphia, who suffered a broken collar bone in his featherweight championship bout with Tony Canzoneri, in Madison Square Garden Friday night, will be out of the ring for three months as a result of the injury, Phil Glassman, his manager, said today.

The injury occurred when Canzoneri knocked Bass down for a count of eight in the third round. Bass finished the 15 rounds, but lost the decision.

I never thought I'd see the end of the bout," Bass said afterwards. "Every time I landed a blow after the third round was agony for me."

Jess McMahon plans to rematch Bass and Canzoneri for another title bout as soon as the Philadelphia recovers from his injury.

Good Prelims Are Arranged For Ring Club

First of Eliminations To Be Staged Here Tuesday Night

An exceptionally strong card of preliminaries will support the inaugural match of the heavyweight tournament to be launched at the Ringside Arena Tuesday night, so Matchmaker Jimmy Mayson announced Sunday. The heavyweight tournament, which is being started for the purpose of finding a suitable opponent for Young Stribling in an Atlanta fight, features Pug Avera and Battling Dick Cannon on the first card.

In the eight-round semi-windup of the Tuesday night attraction, Johnny Carver, of Atlanta, will be pitted against Jack O'Brien, of Louisville, Ky. The boys are well-matched and said to be clever with the gloves.

More Heavies. Another pair of heavyweights will be offered in the six-round preliminary, when Joe Knight, of Cairo, Ga., who weighs 168 pounds, will be seen against West Coast pug, Billy Brown. The latter pits the scales at an even 170 pounds, and is exceptionally clever and in addition possesses a wallop that puts a floor manager under the immediate care of the referee.

In the four-round opener of the show Hugh Brown and Wayne Kerk will attempt to mete out punishment to each other. The first match will start promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Women fans, accompanied by paying escorts, will be admitted free, Mayson said.

The Tuesday night main event promises to be one of the best shows that the Ringside arena has offered in the three months that it has been striving to build up boxing here. Both Avera and Cannon are experienced fighters and each is ambitious to progress in the Ringside arena's tournament. Cannon is a former soldier, who learned his boxing aboard one of Uncle Sam's warships, and is a man who knows anything at all about the navy realizes that it produces some good two-fisted scrappers. Tickets for the Tuesday night show are on sale at Hack Ebbels' billiard parlor.

CHALLENGE IS ACCEPTED BY GAR WOOD

Detroit, February 12.—(AP) Commander Gar Wood, of Detroit, holder of the British international trophy symbol of motor boat race, accepted the challenge of the British Royal Yacht club to defend his title this fall. The challenge was received by J. Lee Barrett, secretary of the Yachtmen's association of America, Friday by cablegram, stating that details would follow by letter.

By telephone from Miami, Fla., Wood expressed satisfaction that a challenge had been made and that he would guarantee the Y. A. A. and the Detroit Yacht club that he would be ready. He said he did not know whether the British Yacht club would be the classic or drive one of his three "Miss Americas," the last British challenge was made in 1921 by the R. M. Y. C. but he had been owned by Sir Mac Kay Edgar since during the race. France has challenged twice, Teddy Clarke, driving the "Excelsior" made a record showing against Wood's boats in 1926.

SPORT ISLANDS

New York, February 12.—(AP) The long leg that blanketed title situations at the start of the year is lifting. It is still murky in the flyweight and bantamweight classes but the atmosphere is cleared in the featherweight and lightweight ranks.

Tony Canzoneri's victory over game left Benny Bass in their sensational 15-round non title last night may not have been decisive enough to satisfy all the critics, but at least it gives the feather fold an undisputed champion for the first time in two years.

Stimulate Action. It also appears likely to stimulate action in this 126-pound division, particularly at the expense of the bantam ranks. In every state except New York Bud Taylor is recognized as the bantam champion, but the Terre Haute terror has been keeping company mostly with featherweights and may decide to forego further 115-pound activity altogether. Charlie (Phil) Rosenberg and Gushey Graham, bantam titleholder and contender, respectively, a year ago, also plan comebacks as featherweights. They are due for reinstatement this week after a year's suspension.

The present exodus to the weightier class will leave the bantam division empty under the American star.

growing up. Just now, so far as the flyweights are concerned, Izzy Schwartz and Frankie Genaro, New York boys, have rival support as title claimants.

Vanderbilt Drops

It seems that Vanderbilt has for basketball champions. Teams such as the University of California and University of Kansas, perennial champions under the American star.

Fifty-Nine Eligible

Fifty-nine colts and fillies are eligible for the Hamiltonian 3-year-old trotting stake this year. The large list makes it almost certain that the richest event in light harness racing will be worth more this year than last, the value in 1927, which was $54,194.

HAWK-EYE-ING SPORTS

BY DICK HAWKINS

After partaking of a dinner composed largely of broiled quail it is quite natural that all the thoughts we have left after gormandizing for the better part of an hour should return to the fields around Douglas, Georgia, where we spent the better part of last week in search of the elusive Bob White.

At the risk of boring the readers who do not care for outdoor sports we will tell of an experience of the past week that will be of interest to the lovers of dogs and game.

Most of our hunting time was spent with Ted Armstrong, professional dog trainer, who, incidentally, is one of the finest trainers we have ever met and one of the finest companions on a hunt.

The story is one not particularly remarkable but just a bit unusual. We started the day's hunt with two pointers and two setters in the field. We—Ted, Ashley Douglas, of Nichols, and your correspondent—started hunting in the morning over beautiful territory on the plantation of Ashley's father. The season is a bit advanced and the feed is scarce enough to make the finding a bit harder than it was earlier in the season.

One of our dogs was a beautiful liver, black and white setter named Prince, and he was afflicted with a lame leg. When we took him from the car the first time in the morning Ted declared that he would have to be returned in an hour or so when the foot began to give too much trouble. Sure enough, within the hour the little setter was hobbling pitifully from pond to pond in a brave effort to keep with the other dogs. Upon returning to the car Ted put him in the back where it was believed he would be safe until we returned from our next cast across the country. Within five minutes he was with us again, hobbling along on three legs but hunting religiously. How he escaped from the car is still a mystery, but that is not the story.

A few minutes after he joined us again two of the pointers were trailing on top of a small knoll near a pond. They seemed near to the point so Ted called to them to "hunt close." The little setter was just coming through the swamp and heard the call. He threw up his head and ran as fast as his three good legs would carry him toward his master. Upon leaving the edge of the pond he came across the birds on his left side and in wheeling to make the point he stumbled on his bad leg and fairly fell to the ground, but he stood the point in this cramped position. The covey had trailed from the hilltop toward the swamp and the little getter had found them despite his crippled condition.

It is impossible to relate such an incident and do justice to the dramatics of the story. There was a crippled dog finishing a job started by two sturdy pointers. It was almost pathetic, yet as fine a bit of bird work as we have ever had the pleasure of witnessing.

WAY IS PAVED FOR OPEN NET PELTZER, HAHN, CONGER ENTER ONE-MILE RACE

New York, February 12.—(United News) With Dr. Otto Peltzer, Ray Conger and Lloyd Hahn entered in the mile run in the Knights of Columbus games, which will be held in Madison Square Garden February 29, that event appears to be the most important race of the 1928 indoor track season.

The race not only will bring about the long-desired meeting between Dr. Peltzer, holder of the half-mile record, and Hahn, America's greatest middle distance runner, but will afford a second race between the German champion and Conger, his conqueror.

Conger beat Peltzer in a 1,000-meter race at Chicago Friday night, and the Tennessee star immediately expressed a desire to meet Conger again.

Conger's surprising victory over Dr. Peltzer caused the K. of C. officials to include him in the mile race, February 29.

The competition afforded by the three stars may cause one of them to lower his record.

Jack Ryder, Hahn's coach, has announced the Nebraska will pay special attention to competition, but will go out to lower the record.

Dr. Peltzer plans to remain in Chicago until Wednesday and to sail for Germany March 1.

Tobin Granted Release

John Tobin, who joined the Boston American league club, having taken understanding that he would be "let out" at any time he wished to enter business, has been granted his unconditional release by the Red Sox.

New York Pro Shoots 283 To Lead Pack

Comes Through in Final Grind To Win Over Smart Field of Golfers.

BY HORACE C. RENEGAR, Associated Press Sports Editor. Hot Springs, Ark., February 12.—(AP) MacDonald Smith, New York professional, today won the south-central open tournament here, leading the 12-hole 72-hole grind with a card 141-142-283.

Al Espinosa, Chicago, and Frank Walsh, Appleton, Wis., finished in a tie for second place with 285 each. Smith's card for the 36-hole round today:

MORNING. Out 383 384 384-387. In 345 345 345-373. AFTERNOON. Out 343 343 343-346. In 345 345 345-373-141-141-283. He was five holes par for the four eighteen-hole rounds of the tournament.

Thrilling Finals. The final rounds thrilled several thousand followers of the leaders, Walsh, Smith and Espinosa standing out as the afternoon started. Espinosa, in the morning play, had produced sparkling 68, making him the tournament choice of some but his score of previous rounds did not leave him in the favored position that Walsh and Smith.

Smith's plodding game, around par all the way through the tournament had his telling effects today when his putts began sinking with even better regularity than in his satisfactory rounds of yesterday and Friday. On the other hand, Walsh, whose putting had been his strongest point, faltered today.

Walsh's card: MORNING. Out 353 353 353-356. In 345 345 345-373. AFTERNOON. Out 343 343 343-346. In 345 345 345-373-141-141-283. Espinosa's card: MORNING. Out 343 343 343-346. In 345 345 345-373. AFTERNOON. Out 343 343 343-346. In 345 345 345-373-141-141-283.

The field began to narrow before the morning round had ended. Henry Cuici, Bridgeport, Conn., started the afternoon round with a 233 after which he began sinking with even better regularity than in his satisfactory rounds of yesterday and Friday.

On the other hand, Walsh, whose putting had been his strongest point, faltered today.

High Wind Sweeps Course. A high wind that swept the course at the time and cool weather did not prove beneficial to those striving to overcome even two and three-stroke margins.

The chief difficulty today was not in finding the cups on the last greens but in getting down long drives in the face of the winds. MacDonald Smith, Paul Runyon, Little Rock, Ark.; Espinosa, Chickasha, Okla.; Len Schuler, Chicago, Ill.; and Tommy Armour, national open champion, and others were several strokes behind.

Jack Hutchison Loses to Sarazen

Miami Beach, Fla., February 12.—(AP) Gene Sarazen, holder of the Miami Beach and Miami open championships, defeated Jack Hutchison, his closest rival in the latter tournament, in an exciting 36-hole match here today, 2 and 1. The Little Italian pro, three down to his veteran Chicago opponent at noon, shot a brilliant 69 after lunch to win.

Hutchison's sparkling morning lead, as a result of sensational putting, several putts of 20 feet driving on every hole and appearing able to continue through the afternoon.

Sarazen's steady and at times brilliant shooting in the afternoon kept Hutchison trying every shot in his bag to retain his lead. Jack lost holes chiefly through his inability to measure distance. His second shot was short on six holes. Sarazen sank a chip shot from off the green for a birdie 2 on the tenth hole, and on the par 3 fifteenth, a 210-yard hole, he hit his tee every shot from the pin and was down in 2. Hutchison was not playing the brand of golf which would match this.

$4,000.00

TRIPLER ELEPHANT GAME

YOUR CHANCE TO WIN $1,500.00

THE PROBLEM

The sums total of the figures on each of the three elephants pictured herewith are to be given as a solution. You can find the sum total of each elephant by adding up the figures of each. The figures 1, 2, and 3 in the circles in the upper left hand corners of the elephants are simply to identify them. These figures have nothing to do with the elephants' weights.

In submitting your solution you must identify the three elephants by their numbers and give the weights of each. A complete solution means that you are to find the sum total of each elephant. It takes the sum total of each to make one solution. This is a game of skill and not a guessing contest.

There are no "4's" or "5's" in the elephants. There are no groups of figures, that is, the figure "9" is the highest figure shown. There are no "23's," "55's" or "97's," or like groups. If you find a "2" and a "3" are written so closely together that it looks like "23," it means that "2" and "3" are to be added—just as you would if they were an inch apart.

There are no figures in the picture except in the bodies of the elephants. The tops of the "6's" are distinctly curved, and the bottom of the "9's" are straight or nearly so. There is no trick or illusion in the charts.

GENERAL RULES OF THE CONTEST

1. This contest is open only to residents of Georgia and adjoining states. Both old and new subscribers may enter. No employee or member of an employee's family of The Atlanta Constitution will be allowed to participate in the contest, nor any of the prize winners that have won prizes in excess of $100.00 in any of the elephant contests heretofore conducted by The Atlanta Constitution.

2. Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they may desire, provided a payment of one of the amounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution, but no contestant will be permitted to win more than one prize. Once registered a solution cannot be changed. NO SOLUTION UNACCOMPANIED BY A SUBSCRIPTION PAYMENT WILL BE REGISTERED.

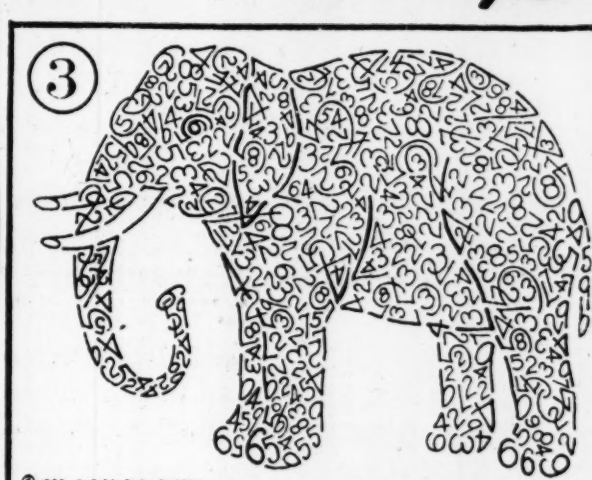

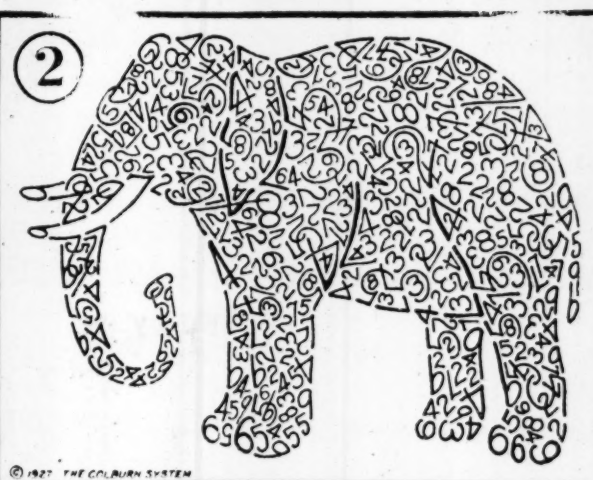

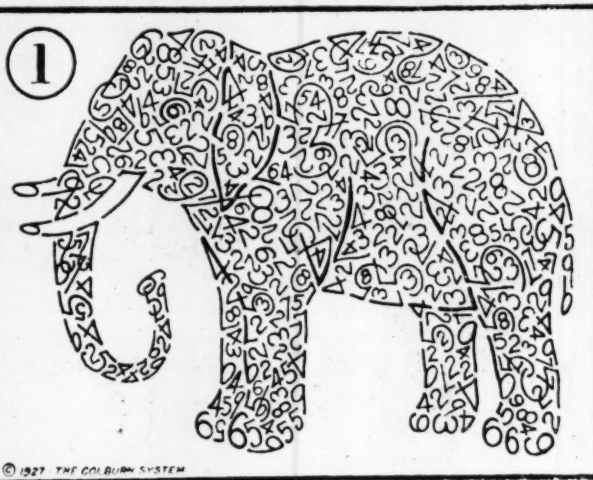

3. The Atlanta Constitution offers these prizes for individual effort. While it is proper for members of one household or several friends to work together, it is not permissible for more than one of those working in unison to send a solution of the puzzle. When, in the judgment of the contest manager or The Atlanta Constitution, more than one member of the same family or more than one of any number of persons he believes have worked together, send in a solution of the puzzle, the right is reserved to refund the amount of money paid for subscription and return the solution if it is believed has been submitted contrary to the rules.

4. The Atlanta Constitution reserves the right at any time to reject any solution which it believes has not been submitted under the proper conditions. In other words, any group of persons working together and submitting more than one solution, all submitted by the group will be barred. The Atlanta Constitution also reserves the right to finally decide any other questions or points which may arise in this contest, and participants by sending in their answers agree to accept the decisions of the contest manager of The Atlanta Constitution as conclusive and final.

5. In case of ties, as many prizes will be reserved as there are people tied before any prizes are awarded for a less correct solution; that is, if two or more people should tie in the best solution, the first two or more prizes will be reserved for them, and they will be awarded in order of the standing of their solutions of the second puzzle. That is, the best solution will be awarded the first prize, the next best second, and the third best third prize, etc.

6. All solutions with remittances must be delivered to the office of The Atlanta Constitution by 6:00 p. m., Thursday, March 29, 1928, or mailed at any post office in Georgia or adjoining states, bearing postmark of no later date than March 29.

7. The subscription rate of the daily and Sunday Constitution is $5.00 for six months, $9.50 for twelve months. All subscriptions in this contest must be paid in advance. Nothing less than six months' subscription will be accepted, and not more than twelve months' subscription is required. A subscription can be sent to one person and the solution credited to another, but the complete address of both must be given in each instance. This contest begins Thursday, February 9, and ends Thursday, March 29, 1928.

Patience and Persistence are the only requisites in winning one of the 30 big awards.

Name Contestant

P. O. State

Street No. or R. F. D.

Daily and Sunday Constitution 6 months, $5.00; 12 months, $9.50.

Subscription Information.

The least amount to accompany a solution in this contest is $5.00 for six months' subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution, new or renewal. The greatest amount required is $9.50 for twelve months' subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution, new or renewal. All renewal subscriptions will be extended for the time paid for beginning with the present paid date of the expiration of subscription. Subscriptions secured by the means of this contest in Atlanta and suburbs will be delivered by carrier service. In towns outside of Atlanta where The Constitution has carrier delivery service, the paper may be delivered by carrier upon request of the subscriber or the contestant. Otherwise, the paper will be sent by mail.

How to Win $1,500.00

To enter this contest it is necessary to send but one paid-in-advance subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution for six months with $5.00, but you can increase the amount of the prize money that you will receive if you are a winner. For instance, with a $5.00 remittance and six months' subscription, should you win first prize the amount paid would be $500.00, but if the winner of first prize has qualified with a remittance of $9.50 for twelve months' subscription, the prize will be $1,500.00 instead of $500.00.

$500.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one six months' subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution with $5.00 remittance is sent, new or renewal, $250.00 for second prize, $125.00 for third prize, etc.

$1,500.00 instead of $500.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one yearly subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution is sent with $9.50, either new or renewal; second prize, $1,000.00; third prize, $500.00, etc. See last column in prize list. All subscriptions in this contest must be paid in advance.

DECIDING TIES--IF ANY

72	25	39	02	84	58	90	72	85	28
36	72	94	28	60	33	72	58	95	25

In case of ties, a second puzzle, like the accompanying chart, except larger, will be presented for those tied to solve. The problem will consist of drawing a continuous chain across the chart encircling the figures in the circles. If necessary to eliminate further ties, the puzzle, with combinations changed, will be presented for as many as five more times, after which, should any ties exist, each tying contestant will receive the full amount of any prizes tied for.

In case there are no ties on counting elephants no other puzzle, of course, will be presented.

$7,500

Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance

issued to annual subscribers and immediate members of a subscriber's family of ages from 15 to 70 at $1.25 per policy each per year. This fee is in addition to the subscription price. Applicants should give name in full, state age and occupation, and when a beneficiary is given be sure to state full Christian name and relationship to the insured.

Here Is The Great Prize List

Note: The value of the prize depends on how much you pay on your subscription with your solution in the triplet elephant game. The amount paid will be applied to the daily and Sunday Constitution: Daily only or tri-weekly subscriptions not accepted in this contest, and no solution will be registered unless accompanied by at least $5.00 for six months' subscription. The least amount is $5.00 for six months' subscription, or the largest amount required is $9.50 for twelve months' subscription.

Both the solution and subscription must be sent in at the same time in same envelope.

	Prize if 6 mos. sub. new or renewal with $5.00 is sent.	Prize if 12 mos. sub. new or renewal with $9.50 is sent.
First Prize	$500.00	$1,500.00
Second Prize	250.00	1,000.00
Third Prize	125.00	500.00
Fourth Prize	75.00	250.00
Fifth Prize	40.00	100.00
Sixth Prize	20.00	50.00
Seventh to Thirtieth Prizes	5.00	25.00
Total	$1,130.00	$4,000.00

Important Facts To Remember

While the amount you pay with a solution of the puzzle does not have any effect on your winning an award, it does affect the amount you will receive should you win, as the value of these awards is determined by what the winners submit in subscription money. This is explained in the awards list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution. The time a solution is received has no bearing upon its winning an award. Accuracy is what counts. Not more than one award will be awarded to any one person.

Closing Date

The Great Elephant Puzzle Contest
Will Close Thursday,
March 29, 1928.

RADIOS STIR PROBE OF PRISON 'LAXITY'

Trenton, N. J., February 12.—(United News.)—Demands for an investigation of conditions in the state prison here will reach the legislature from the institution's guards Monday as a result of the tongue-lashing administered by Warden Timothy J. Murphy upon discovering radio equipment in several cells.

"The possibilities of the radio as an aid to a general prison break are apparent," Warden Murphy declared. During the search of the cells since Joseph H. Tinney, a guard, was slain when two convicts made an unsuccessful break for liberty, enough radio parts have been found to place the inmates in direct communication with outside gangsters. The parts needed only to be assembled.

In addition to the radio parts, Warden Murphy said he found "seven loads of trash" in the prisoners' cells, as well as more than a score of black-jacks and knives.

The warden issued a general reprimand as a result of the discoveries. He said possession of revolvers by the two felons who tried to shoot their way out was a result of "gross neglect."

Guards and deputies replied to the warden's threat of wholesale discharges by forming the "Organization of Prison Workers, Inc.," which has sent a resolution demanding a general inquiry to Governor A. Harry Moore and to each member of the legislature.

LABOR SEEKS CONTROL OF CHAIN OF THEATERS

Washington, February 12.—(AP)—A move looking to the control by organized labor of a chain of 1,500 moving picture theaters throughout the country was disclosed today by a proposal by Hollywood studio electricians carried in the February issue of the Electrical Workers' Journal.

"Briefly stated," says the Journal, "the plan is to make every labor temple, meeting hall and lodge room of different societies who are friendly to organized labor, a moving picture theater in a small way. There are approximately 1,500 labor temples in the United States and Canada, also approximately 5,000 meeting places where there are no labor temples or where the temple is too small to accommodate all the different unions, along with the lodge rooms and halls of any society or association, that would naturally see the possibility of education and financial returns and who are friendly to organized labor. The union men believe that eventually union labor will form its own companies and produce the pictures as well as exhibit them."

ITINERARY FOR EMORY SINGERS ANNOUNCED

Dr. Malcolm H. Dewey, director, has announced the full itinerary for the Emory University Glee club for the winter and spring semesters. Tour will not be as extensive this year as last on account of the European trip to be made during the summer, Dr. Dewey says.

The club will make a tour through north Georgia beginning February 26, returning March 3. The first concert of the most talked of plays of the time, on this tour will be given at Calhoun, Ga., on the evening of February 27. The club will sing at Dalton, Ga., on the twenty-eighth; Cleveland, Tenn., on the twenty-ninth and on March 1 the singers will invade Chattanooga.

On the return trip the Glee club will sing at Rome and Catoctin on the evenings of March 1 and 2, respectively.

The spring tour will include eight towns of south Georgia, beginning with Macon, March 31. On April 2, 3 and 4, the club will sing at McRae, Brunswick and Valdosta. Quitman and Thomasville will hear them on April 5 and 6, and Albany and Tifton on April 7 and 8, just before they return to Atlanta.

HIT BY AMBULANCE WOMAN IS QUICKLY CARRIED TO GRADY

Crashing into and overturning the automobile in which she was riding Sunday afternoon, a Grady hospital ambulance was the cause and means of bringing Mrs. J. B. Cartright, of 389 Hill street, to the hospital with a badly lacerated arm.

According to the reports of Call Officers Wallace and Holland, both automobiles were going east on Bankhead avenue, when the ambulance tried to pass the automobile driven by Fred R. Horton, containing Mrs. Cartright, her husband and her son. The front wheel of the ambulance struck the front wheel of the automobile, overturning it, the report stated. G. T. Gunter, driver of the ambulance, stopped and carried Mrs. Cartright to the hospital.

'I' PROFESSORS SHIT BIG NAVY PROGRAM

Urbana, Ill., February 12.—(AP)—A mass meeting, addressed by three professors of the University of Illinois and attended by 400 residents of Urbana and Champaign, today adopted a resolution of protest against Navy Secretary Wilbur's $2,250,000,000 ship-building program.

The resolution, which termed the program as "ill-fated," will be sent to President Coolidge, Senator Charles Deneen and Representative Charles Deneen, of Illinois, and the senate and house committees on the suggested resolution of protest against Navy Secretary Wilbur's $2,250,000,000 ship-building program.

The three university professors who condemned the shipbuilding program were Professor J. W. Garner, head of the political science department; Professor E. L. Bogart, head of the university's department of economics; and Professor A. H. Lybry, of the department of history.

SEES NAVY PROGRAM AS TRADE MENACE

Washington, February 12.—(AP)—Distrust of the United States because of the proposed naval building program is a menace to American trade relationships, especially in Latin America, Representative Driver, democrat, Arkansas, said in a statement tonight.

He said that European trade competitors in South America were using the naval program in order to create suspicion of the United States and capture the markets of those countries.

'Roadster Show' To Feature Emory Spring Holidays

Following the success it achieved last season, Emory university chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity, will stage its second roadster show during the Emory little commencement holidays from March 21-23. Plans for the show have just been announced by Claude M. Frederick, Atlanta, president of the chapter.

The roadster show is the most brilliant affair held during the year in Atlanta by a fraternity group. A mammoth parade of roadsters of the latest styles, colors and models, will bear beautiful young ladies from all over the south, who gather each year at Emory for the spring festivities.

The first show of this kind was staged last spring, when Emory set a precedent for the south in unique entertainment, many local dealers entering cars.

This year an increased number of dealers are to enter roadsters in the show, according to Mr. Frederick. Many of them are ordering out specially built cars for the occasion, to be driven by members of the fraternity who were elected to it by outstanding work in the college journalistic field.

ORIENTAL PARTY AT PHILIBOSIAN'S NEXT WEDNESDAY

Art circles of Atlanta will be represented at the Oriental tea to be given by Stephen Philibosian in honor of the American Home department of the Atlanta Woman's club at 3 p. m. Wednesday, at his store on Peachtree street, near the Georgian Terrace.

Mrs. Newton C. Wing, chairman of the department and also of the Fifth District Women's club, will be assisted in receiving the guests by Mr. Philibosian; by Mrs. Frank Nadele, hospitality chairman of the department; by Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, club president; Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Mrs. H. J. Gaertner, fine arts chairman of the club; Mrs. Kate Green Hess, president Fifth District club; Mrs. George B. Hummer and members of the department's executive board.

Cards of admission may be obtained by club members from Mrs. Price-Smith; from Mrs. Simmons, hostess at the club, and from Mrs. Frank Nadele. American Home members are asked to use the regular meeting postal sent out by the secretary, Mrs. J. A. Carlisle. Each card admits two, and is necessary for admittance.

ONE GIRL KILLED, TEN ARE INJURED IN BUS WRECK

Chicago, February 12.—(AP)—One girl was killed and ten others injured early today when an automobile carrying Notre Dame students crashed head-on into another at a street intersection.

The dead girl, Miss Helen Ferrer, 19, Chicago, was hurled to the pavement from the front seat. She died almost instantly. The driver of the car was Francis P. Van Wazer, Jr., son of a Chicago contractor. He was slightly injured.

BIBLE CLASS HONORS ORGANIZED LABOR

"Organized Labor Sunday" was observed yesterday by the Men's Bible class of the First Christian church, with a special address by Jerome Jones, editor of the Journal of Labor, featuring the program for the day.

The Rev. C. R. Staurer, teacher of the class, talked to the class on the "Kingdom of Heaven" and Albrecht's song "No Sunday will be 'City of Atlanta Day' in the Bible class," it was announced, with O. E. Cullum, chairman of the committee, in charge of the program.

Townsmen Want Veteran Pensioned by City Fathers

Milledgeville, Ga., February 12.—(Special.)—This town wants "Captain" Jack back on its payroll, where he has been for most of his 86 years of life.

A Confederate veteran, "Captain" Jack Roberts, after all those years, was overlooked by the new city council when it assumed office the first of the year. It was the first time, almost in the history of Milledgeville, that such a thing had happened.

"Captain" Jack had been forgotten. More than a quarter of a century ago it was decided by the town fathers that "Captain" Jack was becoming "just a little too old" for the police force, on which he had served since many of them were youngsters. So something had to be done about it; and they made him sanitary officer.

And as sanitary officer "Captain" Jack served; and the town grew up, and new administrations came and went. But they always remembered the old veteran, long an institution to citizens of Milledgeville, and he was always "re-elected"—unanimously.

It was just last week that the townsmen awoke to the realization that something wasn't as it should be. Word went around that "Captain" Jack wasn't on the payroll any more; that he had been overlooked for the first time in the memory of most citizens.

Therefore, it was plainly a situation requiring action on the part of the residents—and they acted.

At the meeting of the new council last week a petition signed by several hundred taxpayers, representative of the major percentage of taxable property in the city, was presented to the new body, and several eminent citizens—among them Captain J. H. Ennis—appeared and made eloquent pleas for "Captain" Jack.

Nevertheless only one member of council favored giving the old man a pension as the petition had requested. The others tabled the matter.

But Milledgeville isn't through. A mass meeting is being planned, to be held within the next week, at which time a delegation of the town's leading citizens will be appointed to appear as a committee before the next meeting of council and demand that "Captain" Jack be taken care of.

Women To Meet.

A regular meeting of the officers' club of the Woman's Benefit association will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the W. B. A. hall, McKenzie building, with Mrs. Jennifer Brown in charge, according to announcement Sunday.

ITALIAN ROYALTY TO OBSERVE RICE DAY FEBRUARY 19

Milan, Italy, February 12.—(AP)—The royal family is to observe rice day on February 19 to aid in popularizing that grain, rice growers here announce.

The growers are distributing a thousand rice rations all through the large cities as well as sending samples of Italian rice to Tripoli and supplying rice to army contingents in northern Italy.

SECRETARY M'LENDON IS SLIGHTLY WEAKER

Colonel S. Guyt McLendon, secretary of state, was reported slightly weaker at his apartment in the Henry Grady hotel Sunday night.

Colonel McLendon has been ill since mid-December with complications which followed an attack of influenza. Sunday he was said to be in about the same condition as the past four days.

EDITORS PREPARE FOR MACON MEET

Macon, Ga., February 12.—(AP)—One hundred Georgia editors have made reservations thus far for the Georgia Press association's institute to be held at Mercer university, starting Wednesday night and continuing through Saturday.

The institute will open on Wednesday night with a banquet given by the Macon Chamber of Commerce at Hotel Dupree at 8 o'clock. For this event 75 Georgia editors have accepted invitations.

More acceptances are expected tomorrow, it was indicated today.

This is the first institute ever held by the Georgia editors. There will be classroom work, round table discussions and lectures by noted editors and educators.

Chancellor J. H. Kirland, of Vanderbilt university; David Lawrence, editor of the United States Daily; John Paschall, managing editor of the Atlanta Journal; James O'Shaughnessy, of New York, executive secretary of the American Advertising agencies; Willis J. Abbott, editor of the Christian Science Monitor; A. T. Polyzoides, editor of Atlantic, Greek national newspaper; Fuzzy Woodruff, of the Atlanta Georgian; Dr. M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of schools; Dr. A. M. Soule, president George State College of Agriculture, and many others are on the program, in addition to the Macon editors and editors.

A complete program of work for the Georgia editors has been planned. Dormitory quarters have been provided for men at Mercer university and for women at Wesleyan college.

The events will come to a close with a dinner-dance to be given by the Macon Telegraph at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

NEW YORK CHURCH RECEIVES PLACQUE FROM BELGIANKING

New York, February 12.—(AP)—A porcelain plaque and two brass Flemish lanterns which once hung in the private chapel of the Count of Flanders, father of King Albert of Belgium, were presented to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine today on behalf of the king of Belgium.

Prince Albert de Ligne, Belgian ambassador to the United States, presented the gifts, which were accepted by Bishop William T. Manning. A guard of honor composed of 12 soldiers, all bearing decorations from the Belgian government, was present through the ceremony.

ATLANTA'S new family connection

The Velvet Kind ICE CREAM

WITH the introduction of THE VELVET KIND ICE CREAM, and the famous DE LUXE PINT PACKAGE, filled and sealed at the freezer, Atlanta becomes a very prominent member of the SOUTHERN DAIRIES family.

This organization, with its forty-five plants spreading over the Southern states, extending from the national capital to the point of Florida, is the great dairy products institution of the South.

The thoroughness with which its big work is being done is vividly reflected in the daily operation of its new ice cream plant at Piedmont Avenue and Ellis Street. You are cordially invited to visit this plant to witness personally the making of The Velvet Kind Ice Cream.

From the reception of the fresh, rich cream at the plant, tested scientifically at every step, to the delivery of the ice cream into your hands, there is evidenced a rigid adherence to modern, scientific methods as laid down by the leading health authorities and colleges of the country.

Always the flavors of the moment—single flavors and two-flavor combinations.

Catering service—fancy ice creams and sherbets in special molds for parties on short notice.

JUGGERNAUT

By Alice Campbell

SYNOPSIS.

Roger Rowe, a young nurse, having accompanied an invalid from the United States to Cannes on the Riviera, is about to return to New York when she sees an advertisement in the paper for a nurse and doctor's assistant and she decides to apply for the job in order to spend a little time in Cannes.

While waiting for an answer to her application to Dr. Sartorius, Esther treats herself to tea at the fashionable Restaurant des Ambassadeurs. She becomes interested in the conversation of a beautiful French woman and her escort, an Englishman, who sit at the next table. On returning to her hotel Esther finds a note from the doctor asking her to report in the morning.

The beautiful French woman of the restaurant comes to see Dr. Sartorius and Esther learns that she is Lady Clifford. A few days later her husband, Sir Charles Clifford, is stricken with typhoid fever and Dr. Sartorius gives up his practice and laboratory work to devote himself exclusively to Sir Charles. Esther is taken on the case as day nurse.

Miss Clifford, Sir Charles' sister, receives a telegram from Roger Clifford, Sir Charles' only son, announcing his arrival in Cannes the next day.

INSTALLMENT XIII.

ROGER ARRIVES.

Lady Clifford snatched the telegram rather brusquely from Miss Clifford's hand and scanned it frowningly, her vivid red underlip caught between her teeth. Miss Clifford looked embarrassed.

"Yes, but I do not understand. How is it he has come back so much sooner than he expected and without letting us know?"

"I can only suppose he has finished his work there and thought he would give us a surprise."

The younger woman gave back the telegram and turned with a slight shrug of her shoulders.

"I think he might have written us he was coming," she said with a sort of resentment. Esther could not understand. "Why do people want to take you by surprise?"

"At any rate," remarked Miss Clifford pleasantly, "it can't possibly make any difference in this house."

"I don't know now, but I certainly felt a premonition of it, as I was telling the nurse a moment ago. I had been away I am sure I should have come home at once, feeling as I did."

Lady Clifford carefully fitted another cigarette into her holder and lit it.

"I think the doctor is right, that we are all making far too much fuss over Charles' illness," she said abruptly. "After all, there has been nothing so far to cause us any alarm."

"Yes, you are quite right," agreed Miss Clifford simply. "And I am glad to hear you say so, my dear. You know you have never been more sane and more than I have."

"Ah, that is the way I take things. I cannot help my nature," laughed the Frenchwoman amiably enough. "I always fear the worst. I suppose now we had better ask the doctor if we can tell Charles about Roger's coming."

"Is the doctor with him?"

"I will see."

She crossed to the door at the far side of the room, and opening it, spoke softly to someone inside. A second later the nurse struck her head through the opening. She was smiling, angular woman of old with thick, iron-colored hair and a frosty tip to her nose.

"Do you wish to see the doctor, Lady Clifford?"

She spoke ingratiatingly, with a hint of badly fitted false teeth.

"Yes, is he here?"

The nurse disappeared and was presently replaced by Dr. Sartorius, who came inside and closed the door behind him. Acknowledging Esther's presence by the nodding of his head, he bent his head and listened attentively to what the Frenchwoman told him. As she spoke her eyes searched his face eagerly, so that seemed to Esther, but his heavy features remained impassive.

"Ah, it won't hurt him to hear good news," he replied indifferently. "Go in now, if you care to; he's alone now."

To Esther's surprise the Frenchwoman put out her hand to her sister-in-law with a gracious gesture. "You tell him, Dido, dear," she said gently. "I knew you would like to."

"Thank you, Therese!"

With a grateful smile the old lady disappeared into the bedroom, followed by the doctor, and Esther was left alone with her employer, Lady Clifford.

Clifford did not glance in her direction, but put up her hand with a restless, irritable movement and swept the big wavy lock of her hair off her forehead.

"How hot it is in here!" she exclaimed, going to the nearest window and flinging it open with a jerk. "Stifling! There, that is better."

She stood for several seconds breathing in the fresh air, her body tense as if on steel wires, her head thrown back. Then, relaxing somewhat, she turned and spoke to Esther, as if suddenly recalling her presence.

"You come from New York, I hear," she said with another keen glance. "Do you like it, New York?"

Esther replied that she did, but Lady Clifford did not hear her.

"Ah, New York, that is a place I have never been. It must be marvelous. Some day I shall go there, some day when I am—"

She did not finish, for at that moment the butler came in to announce lunch. She had stretched out her arms with a sort of abandon, but now let them fall abruptly, gave a sigh and without looking in Esther's direction walked into her own bedroom on the right, perhaps to give an additional touch to her already perfect hair or another brush of powder to her flawless nose.

The breeze with wet freshness cleansed the overperfumed room, fluttering the papers on the writing table. The top sheet sailed through the air and settled on the hearth rug. Mechanically Esther picked it up to replace it, the habit of order being strong upon her. Unavoidably she saw that it was covered with figures in angular French writing, money sums by the look of them, with frequent signs of the pound and the franc. She anchored the paper upon the blotter with a little carving of an amethyst crystal, regarding her with eyes narrowed suspiciously.

"Your papers were blowing about," explained Esther with the assumption the matter deserved. She was inwardly asking herself, "What is the matter with me? I always seem to be imagining things with this woman."

With one of her swift movements the beautiful Therese snatched up the rescued sheet and tore it to bits.

"It is of no consequence, this," she remarked indifferently, dropping the pieces into the waste basket.

Again Esther noticed those stumpy, abbreviated fingers, so oddly at variance with the rest of their owner.

"Bien," said Lady Clifford, flashing a charming smile upon her, "let us have our déjeuner."

At the gate next morning Miss Clifford, having selected a likely train, leaned forward in her brother's car and eagerly scanned each arrival as he issued from the exit. What if Roger did not come today after all? These trains were so booked up that this season he might not have been able to secure a wagon-lift. Still, he usually managed things.

"Roger! Roger!" she shouted suddenly, so that at least half a dozen travelers turned in her direction.

The young Englishman in the Harris tweed coat wheeled at the sound of her voice and reached the car in a dozen quick strides. He was wearing 20, tall, but less tall than Sir Charles, with features similar but not so pronounced, and eyes intensely blue. He had his father's humorous mouth modified and softened in a way that the old man's look of stubborn strength he added something which suggested more imagination and sensitiveness. He appeared in excellent condition, tanned and vigorous, his skin tanned from five days of sea and wind.

"Roger, darling!"

"Dido, my dear old girl!"

His beaklike embrace brought comfort to her heart. She held him off at last and gazed on him with deep affection.

"This is good of you, auntie, to come and meet me. I didn't expect it."

"As if I wouldn't!"

The Oil-O-Matic oil burner is an electrical furnace-tending machine and automatically prepares and regulates fuel oil which takes the place of coal in producing heat. While the machine itself is placed in front of the furnace and takes up but little space, it is regulated by the temperature, and all the householder has to do is to set a little thermostat in any room at a comfortable degree and the burner in the basement will burn as much or little oil as it will take to give the degree of heat which is desired.

The temperature of the sick room, children's room or living room for old people can be regulated so that regardless how cold the weather may be outside, the same even temperature prevails at all times. Hundreds of doctors through the country are loud in their praise of the automatic oil burners for the sick room. These oil burners are made to take care of the heating problems of the mansion and the cottage, the hospital, hotel, office building, theater or factory, and there are nearly 300 of them in use in and around Atlanta. More are being installed at this time.

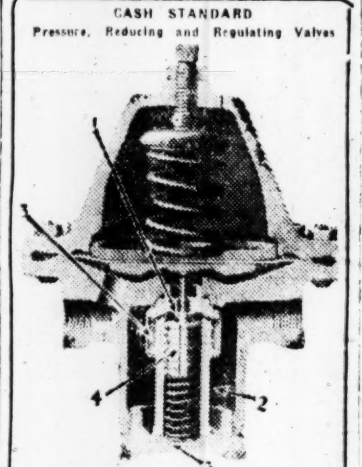

TRADE COMMISSION ENDS FIELD WORK ON SEED CRUSHING

Washington, February 12.—(AP)—The field work on its investigation of the cotton seed crushing industry has been completed by the federal trade commission and the report to the senate committee is being considered. In March of last year the commission was directed by the house to investigate the industry of seed crushing, refining and other processes to determine whether there was any combination to fix prices in violation of the anti-trust laws.

Architects Asked To Look At Merits of Flashing Lock

The true value of the "Ever-Tite" flashing lock is just becoming recognized by architects and builders in this part of the country, according to Sam Womack, office manager of the R. F. Knox company, sheet metal workers of 573-81 Marietta street.

For 40 years, Mr. Womack says, "R. F. Knox has been leader in the sheet metal industry in the south, with a world of experience in all branches of sheet metal work, and many a good cornice, skylight or other ornamental metal job put on by him a third or more of a century ago is still serving its purpose."

For years Mr. Knox found that the weak point in flat roofing was the fact that leaks almost inevitably developed around the flashing. The old style flashing applied in the old style method would come loose and it seemed to him that there was but little use in building a high-class roof with this fatal defect. The owner of a building is interested only in the fact that his roof leaks, or is water proof, and is not concerned with whether the leak is in the center or around the flashing. Having an honest pride in his work, Mr. Knox complied his inventive genius with his practical experience and developed the "Ever-Tite" flashing lock; a device that will make flashing water proof, and especially those of the National Timbers red paint. It is set in place by the brick mason, while the wall is being constructed. The flashing lock is set on top of the brick course at desired height above the roof line, with the angle edge protruding one inch. The half-inch lead is made of sheet metal. It is set in such manner as to provide space underneath at front for the insertion of counter or cap flashing. The one-inch protruding edge is turned

Personal Attention Given Every Order by Large Firm

Evidence of the regard in which an Atlanta business is held in other sections of the south is had in a letter received recently by the Atlanta Envelope company from one of North Carolina's largest newspaper publishers.

The circulation manager of this paper wrote in part: "I have had a tender spot in my heart for your company ever since the day I phoned you for a case of envelopes in a hurry and began getting delivery in about 24 hours."

"I would like to give you the big reason for the success with which our company has met," declared B. M. Whitely, manager of sales promotion for the Atlanta Envelope company. "I would like to give you the policy instituted years ago by our president, S. Guthman. He has insisted on perfecting the service he has given every order; when a customer requests speedy delivery, our organization is in duty bound to see that it is accorded. The letter from the newspaper publisher referred to is typical of hundreds in our files and a tribute to Mr. Guthman's policy of treating each envelope order from the angle of the customer."

"Our method of operation personalizes our service to the most intimate degree. Every order, irrespective of size, from the moment it comes into our plant, is 'personally conducted' by one man who is charged with

Home and Household Exhibit Sponsored by Junior Chamber

Manufacturers and merchants who look to the "home builder" for their customers will have a splendid opportunity to display their lines in attractive surroundings at the coming Southern Building and Household exposition, to be held at the Atlanta auditorium March 19 to 24.

There are thousands of young couples and other folk who are planning to build homes this spring, but who have very little idea of what they want outside the usual cut-and-dried lines. They have not studied building materials, plumbing, electric fixtures and devices. They do not know of the scores of labor-saving machines which make up a modern home.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, composed of several hundred live, aggressive young business men, is putting on this big "home show" to assemble under one roof everything that can help the prospective home builder in choosing a home and material and equipment. The proceeds of the sale of tickets will be used by the Junior Chamber to finance the sending of a big delegation to the national convention of the organization this spring with a view to landing the 1930 convention for Atlanta.

So much display space already has been sold to manufacturers and dealers that the success of the exposition is assured. The committee in charge believes that every foot of space will be under contract within a short time. Several exhibitors have taken several booths and will make elaborate displays. Exhibits will by no means be confined to building materials and household equipment; in fact, it is expected to display everything that helps to make up a modern, comfortable and happy home, from living room to kitchen.

There will be exhibits of modern furniture and draperies and rugs; of heating and lighting equipment, and even an extensive display of crockery.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is noted for the entertainment features at its weekly luncheons, and the experience it has acquired in keeping its members interested will be used in providing a series of stunts and entertainments for every afternoon and night of the big "Home Show." The music will be provided by the Junior Chamber's own orchestra, and the best of vaudeville and other attractions will be furnished.

OUR CORNISH SLAB BURNING BOILERS
The slab burning space is a heavy fire box steel flue and is entirely surrounded by water with a combustion chamber from which the burning gases return through 2-inch pipes, thus heating the water a second time, which appeal to saw mill operators. We carry a full line of saw mills, tractors and repair supplies. All our saw mills are equipped with roller bearings insuring ease of movement. Tremendous Waste In Discarded Tires Is Shown by Johnson

Thousands of dollars are wasted today on tires discarded due to injury or neglect. A weekly inspection of tires and wheels, as well as proper repairing of all cuts and bruises in the casings, would mean a saving of at least 25 per cent. In other words, the average car owner throws away one tire out of four.

Tires are built today to render thousands of miles of service. Engineers and tire builders have developed tire repair machinery and repair methods that are in step with the advance made in tire building.

The tire store of today is managed by a man who is a merchant in every sense of the word. He knows a repair shop is absolutely essential to the success of his business. Success can be his only to the extent of the kind of service he renders to the customer.

The tire merchant of today equips his shop with modern tire repair machinery and places the shop in charge of a man who is not a "tire patcher" or a "tire fixer," but a craftsman. He can tell when a customer's tire can be repaired economically. Owen Johnson, just such an experienced tire repair man, is in charge of the Chapman Tire company shop, which is fully equipped with modern machinery. Mr. Johnson says:

"If I were going out to buy a set of new tires I would be just as interested in the service facilities offered as I would be in the kind of tires the merchant carried in stock, for no customer can afford to lose 25 per cent of the original purchase."

AUTOMATIC DEVICE WILL CONTROL 500 MILES OF RAILROAD

Chicago, February 12.—(AP)—The Chicago and Northwestern railroad announced today that automatic train control will be installed from Chicago to Omaha, approximately 500 miles, making the longest stretch of automatic control in the world.

Georgia Peanuts Being Sent Afar By Busy Firm Here

Today Georgia peanuts are in great demand in Oklahoma, West Virginia and other peanut sections according to Atlanta dealers.

The Barrett Food Products company, Inc., makers of Garden Products, located at 441-443-445 Marietta street, is now employing 100 people in its factory with 27 trucks and 150 distributors and distributing Georgia Products all over the ten southern states.

The most difficult task of the Barrett Food Products company, Inc., is to meet the demand, as there are daily calls for their products in peanuts, peanut butter, sandwiches and the Gardner de luxe potato chips, forcing employees to work until 10 o'clock every night.

There is hardly a need or want that cannot be filled in Atlanta's stores and factories.

rest Food Products company, Inc., is to meet the demand, as there are daily calls for their products in peanuts, peanut butter, sandwiches and the Gardner de luxe potato chips, forcing employees to work until 10 o'clock every night.

The Barrett Food Products company, Inc., makers of Garden Products, located at 441-443-445 Marietta street, is now employing 100 people in its factory with 27 trucks and 150 distributors and distributing Georgia Products all over the ten southern states.

The most difficult task of the Barrett Food Products company, Inc., is to meet the demand, as there are daily calls for their products in peanuts, peanut butter, sandwiches and the Gardner de luxe potato chips, forcing employees to work until 10 o'clock every night.

DOUBTING WIVES
UNCOVER MATES'
PIN-MONEY SCHEME

Detroit, February 12.—(AP)—Three skeptical wives visited the traffic bureau of the Detroit department here last week and confirmed their suspicions. In each case their doubts were aroused by what seemed to be the bureau's motoring delinquencies of their spouses.

In each case the husband had paid the police department a $10 fine and a trip peculiarly hit upon the identical scheme of deducting an extra $10 out of the pay envelope for themselves by representing to their wives that the fine had been $20. All three wives had the identical suspicion after examining the doctored receipts. Each husband had made a clumsy effort to make the $10 fine read $20.

SWEDE MONARCHS
ATTEND HIGH MASS
IN HONOR OF POPE

Rome, February 12.—(AP)—The presence of King Gustavus of Sweden and his queen made particularly notable the solemn pontifical high mass celebrated in the Sistine chapel this morning in observance of the sixth anniversary of the coronation of Pope Pius XI.

Cardinal Locatelli and the Sistine choir joined the mass. The pope, clad entirely in white, was carried in the sedia gestatoria, the portable throne used only on occasions of ceremony. The king himself pronounced the benediction. King Gustavus came here last week to join Queen Victoria, who has been staying through the winter as usual at her villa here.

TARHEEL BOY WINS
GA. HISTORICAL PRIZE

Savannah, Ga., February 12.—(AP)—At the annual meeting of the Georgia Historical society, it was announced that a Tarheel boy, a student of the University of North Carolina, had won the historical prize of $250 given annually for some paper of historic interest. His topic was "The Plantations and a County of the Old South." There were 25 contestants.

All of the old officers of the society were re-elected. The president, W. Gordon Savannah, president, vice president, R. B. Brooks, Otis Ashmore, T. M. Cunningham, Jr., of Savannah, and "Cotton" R. Evans, of Augusta. Charles F. Groves, secretary, and William Harlan, librarian.
